WITNESS TO L.A. MURDER BARES CRIME

Woman Arrested in Tucson When Husband Discloses Her as Slayer, After Aiding Her Flight Attempt

Threatened With Death if She Interfered or Told, Her Friend Tells Officers; Killing Laid to Jealousy

TUCSON, Ariz., July 14 (By the Associated Press).—Despite earlier objections of both the prisoner and local officials, a representative of the Associated Press was permitted to talk briefly today to Clara McGuyver, alleged to be Mrs. Clara Phillips, wanted in Los Angeles for the murder of Mrs. Albert Meadows. The prisoner, smiling and seemingly unworried, denied positively that she is Mrs. Phillips and claimed that her name was McGuyver and that she lives at 703 West Fifty-third street, Los Angeles.

The interviewer was the only one aside from officials who has yet talked to the prisoner. She disclosed no emotion as she read the newspaper accounts of the brutal slaying.

"I have nothing to say," she said as she finished reading. "I will say nothing here. When I am in Los Angeles I will answer questions put to me, but it is wasting your time to question me further."

"Do you know A. L. Phillips?" "I don't know whether I do or not," was her answer.

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—(By the Associated Press).—The address given by the woman arrested in Tucson, alleged to be Mrs. Clara Phillips, wanted by authorities here for the hammer murder of Mrs. Albert Meadows, is identical with that of A. L. Phillips, who informed the sheriff that his wife committed the murder. It is 703 West Fifty-third street.

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—(By the Associated Press).—An indictment charging Mrs. Clara Phillips with the murder of Mrs. Albert Meadows was returned by the grand jury this afternoon. It will be served on Mrs. Phillips on her return to Los Angeles from Tucson in custody of Sheriff William Traeger.

LOS ANGELES, July 14 (By the Associated Press).—The full horror of the details of the beating to death of Mrs. Albert Meadows, 20-year-old widow, were revealed to the police yesterday by Mrs. Peggie Caffee, a young woman who declared she was the eye-witness to the hammer blows which crushed the life from the victim on a hillside road in the city here Wednesday.

Mrs. Caffee named Mrs. Clara Phillips, wife of A. L. Phillips, an oil promoter, as the slayer. Restrained by threats of death from answering the piercing pleas of the victim, nauseated by the scene, Mrs. Caffee said she fled down the roadway and was a few moments later picked up by Mrs. Phillips, who repeated threats of death should she reveal the murder. She said she was driven downtown, where Mrs. Phillips put her off the automobile, which belonged to the slain woman.

MAINTAINED SILENCE UNDER DEATH THREAT. She was found early today by the police and said that she maintained silence in fear of the threats of Mrs. Phillips. The full story was recited in the presence of the chief of police.

OAKLAND GOLFER LEADS FOR TITLE

John Black Only Two Above Par at Half Way Mark in National Open.

GLENCOE, Ill., July 14.—(By the Associated Press).—John Black of Oakland retained his commanding bid for the national open golf championship at the end of today's play by scoring a second 71 for a low total of 142 at the half way mark, two above par.

The California grandfathers set the gallery crazy by holing a 50-yard niblick shot for an eagle two on the 349 yard fifteenth hole.

Walter Hagen, who led Black by three strokes at the 18th hole, slumped by reason of wild shooting on the third nine and took forty to reach the turn. He needed a 24 to tie Black for the lead.

Black went out in 35, one over par, and came back in a perfect 36, despite a six on the fourth.

Other scores for the first half follow: Chick Evans, 72-76—148; George Duncan, England, 76-73—149; Laurie Ayton, Chicago, 72-76—148; Joe Kirkwood, Australia, 77-74—151; Jack Crooke, Chicago, 82-85—167; William McFarlane, "Tuckahoe," N. CONSPIRACY 'RED' FIRES CHARGED IN DYE DEALS ON FRENCH PRESIDENT

In Opposing Embargo Clause in the Tariff Bill Senator Moses Scores the Acts of Garvin and Big Concerns

Former Alien Property Custodian, Chemical Foundation, et al. Are Accused of Fraud in Securing Patents

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEAD WIRE TO TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, July 14.—Charges of a somewhat sensational character against the Chemical Foundation, Inc., the E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Company and the Textile Alliance, were made today in the senate by Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, in an address in opposition to the dye embargo provision of the administration tariff bill.

Senator Moses said these organizations were three of the actors "in the gigantic fraud" he was opposing, and added:

"These three are significantly interlocked in their related personnel and in their activities, and it is their whose subsidiaries, officials, stockholders, lobbyists, paid propagandists, and faked and kept organizations have been the most aggressive, avaricious and insolent of all the profiteering crew who pertinaciously push this legislation."

CONSPIRACY AND FALSEHOOD CHARGED. Senator Moses declared that whatever the outcome of the government proceedings against the Chemical Foundation, he always would believe it was conceived in conspiracy and fostered by falsehood.

He charged that the conspiracy "was formed by Francis P. Garvin, its president; his associates in the office of alien property custodian and certain of the dye manufacturers of the country."

The senator set forth that Polk later "seemed very much disturbed and had intimate and very strongly that he had been made the victim of false representations to induce his signature to the executive order."

SAYS GARVIN SOLD PROPERTY TO HIMSELF. A week after the order was signed, Senator Moses continued, Garvin became alien property custodian and "as such on April 10 sold to himself for $250,000 property whose earning capacity thus far disclosed indicates it to have been worth many millions."

U.S. Threat to Draft Men On Railways; Shop Firemen and Oilers Join Rail Strike; Texas Governor May Call State Troops

UNIONS TO OPPOSE USE OF TROOPS

But 25,000 Men In Army Can Be Used in Strike

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Only 25,000 infantrymen are available for strike duty in the United States, it was revealed at the War Department today. Officials expressed the fear that if the strike disorders now prevalent became general and spread beyond the power of state troops to cope with them, the federal forces would be insufficient to insure protection to the 275,000 miles of railroad in the country or the vast railroad properties of mails operating every day.

TEXAS TROOPS MAY BE CALLED

GOVERNOR SENDS AGENT TO LEARN IF SOLDIER GUARDS ARE NEEDED.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 14 (By International News Service).—The first intimation that Governor Pat M. Neff may order state troops for strike duty came this morning when the governor despatched Adjutant General Thos. D. Barton to Denison, where serious rioting had occurred. Adjutant General Barton was instructed to make a complete investigation of the situation and report to the governor.

BY UNITED PRESS. LEAD WIRE TO TRIBUNE. DALLAS, Tex., July 14.—Governor Neff today defied demands of federal authorities that state troops be ordered to guard railroad shops.

The governor said he would not order guards at this time to protect the shops.

Despite the threat of federal officials to send U. S. Government troops to preserve peace, Neff said he had accepted the word of Sheriff Boyd of Denison that no soldiers were needed to quiet disorder.

Outsiders hearing of three railroad guards at various shop centers, the situation throughout the State was reported quiet today.

Large numbers of strikers continued to picket the shops at Denison, and deputy U. S. marshals who arrived to guard railroad property there were secured.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 14.—Federal troops were held in readiness at Fort Sam Houston and Camp Travis today to enforce President Harding's proclamation against interference with the mails or interstate commerce. President Harding today ordered the use of troops to enforce his order.

Secretary of War Weeks and his aids were in constant communication with sections where violence is rife. If the governors of those states find themselves unable to properly protect the railroads, federal troops will be despatched.

As Weeks, Harding and others of the president's cabinet talked over plans for checking the strikers with troops, another council of war was going on less than a mile from the rail strikers.

This second council was in session at the American Federation of Labor building, where Samuel Gompers, president, and the heads of the international unions were formulating plans for bucking up the rail strikers.

LABOR OPPOSES CALLING OF TROOPS.

By JAMES T. KOLBERT. United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The use of federal troops in the rail strike will be strongly opposed by the American Federation of Labor.

No denunciation of Secretary of War Weeks' policy in making the army promptly available for strike duty is certain to be voted by a specially called meeting of the presidents of the labor unions, in session here today, labor leaders said.

Clearly out of patience with the refusal of striking railway men in some parts of the country to obey his proclamation against interference with the mails and interstate commerce, President Harding today ordered the use of troops to enforce his order.

Secretary of War Weeks and his aids were in constant communication with sections where violence is rife. If the governors of those states find themselves unable to properly protect the railroads, federal troops will be despatched.

As Weeks, Harding and others of the president's cabinet talked over plans for checking the strikers with troops, another council of war was going on less than a mile from the rail strikers.

This second council was in session at the American Federation of Labor building, where Samuel Gompers, president, and the heads of the international unions were formulating plans for bucking up the rail strikers.

Gompers denounced in strong terms the decision to use troops on the roads and threw a deft at the government with the statement that the meeting of labor heads was called to "bring about the success" of the strike.

Capital Gloomy Over Strike Crisis

By GEORGE R. HOLMES. International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Escalated from every direction with the gravest industrial situation that has confronted this nation in years, President Harding met again with his cabinet today to seek a course of administration action that will at once afford the public protection to which the government is pledged and which at the same time will not add fuel to an already blazing fire.

There was an unmistakable atmosphere of pessimism and alarm in Washington as the cabinet met at the White House. From being merely an "annoying industrial dispute," the twin coal and rail strikes have suddenly become a national crisis. Federal troops are being held in readiness for instant duty, not only in Texas but in other parts of the country. And the strike of stationary firemen and oilers, ordered from Chicago today to be effective on Monday, was regarded as labor's answer to the threats which the troop orders implied.

Not only in the executive branch of the government was serious alarm beginning to manifest itself today, but also in the legislative as well. Senators who have been prominent in settling similar situations in the past declined to talk.

Strike Held Certain If Workers Are Forced to Do Work of Shopmen; Hooper Still Seeks to Gain Peace

UNIONS SUED FOR $1,500,000

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Harding, it was said today at the White House, is of the opinion that in an emergency it would not abridge the liberty of any railroad worker to draft him into service in the event the government saw fit to take over the operation of the carriers. It was stated, however, that the executive believed the railroad situation would not become so serious that any such step would be deemed necessary by the administration.

CHICAGO, July 14.—(By International News Service).—Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the United States Railway Labor Board, late today held a brief conference with P. E. Crowley, first vice-president of the New York Central, and J. E. Murray, attorney for the road. Murray said he understood that peace negotiations were "well under way."

(By International News Service) LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 14.—Suit for $1,500,000 to recover alleged damages from the shop crafts union inflicted to the road during the present strike, was filed by the Wabash Railroad company before Judge Triebel in federal court here today. The bill also asks that an injunction be issued against alleged illegal picketing activities of the strikers.

(By United Press) DENVER, July 14.—Members of the Big Four brotherhoods on the Denver & Rio Grande Western here have threatened to quit work if they are to be questioned by armed guards when they come to work.

CHICAGO, July 14.—E. F. Grable, head of the maintenance of way brotherhood, left here this morning for Washington where, it was said, he will go into conference with President Harding concerning the threatened walkout of the men in his union. Grable said there would be no strike of the maintenance of way men unless they were "coerced" into it.

By CHARLES R. LYNCH. United Press Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, July 14.—The railroad strike spread today as hopes of bringing about a settlement faded.

The walkout of 14,000 stationary firemen, engineers and oilers—most of whom have already quit work in sympathy with shopmen—was authorized for 8 a. m. Monday.

"I don't expect many additional men will walk out," President Timothy Healy of the union said today. "Most of them are already on strike."

The walkout of stationary engineers and firemen will not seriously affect plans for a settlement of the shopmen's strike now in progress, railroad labor board members stated.

Edward F. Grable, president of the maintenance-of-way union, with 300,000 members, left Chicago for his Detroit headquarters after announcing that a strike call in that organization is inoperative unless railroads stop ordering the members to do work of strikers. Grable said many maintenance-of-way employees have been discharged when they refused to take up jobs of strikers. Unless these men are reinstated and the practice discontinued a strike will follow, he said.

"Sentiment of many of my men is against a strike and I am yet hopeful that the railroads will abide by the instructions of the United States Labor Board and not ask them to do the work of strikers," Grable said.

Before leaving for Detroit Grable was in conference for several hours with Bert F. Jewell, president of the striking shopmen's union, and later with members of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

President Grable admitted that there had been many unauthorized strikes by his men, but said he had been doing everything within his power to induce members of his organization to abide by the promise he gave the U. S. Railroad Board that there would be no strike.

A majority of the general chairmen of the maintenance of way union have demanded that a meeting be called to go ahead with plans for the strike, according to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3).

THREE OVERCOME AT BIG S. F. FIRE

Northern Waterfront Blaze Menaces Sulphur Plant and Chemical Works.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Fire, which threatened destruction to the plant of the Stauffer Chemical Company and the San Francisco Sulphur Company, Bay street and Grant avenue, broke out shortly before noon today on the northern waterfront.

Three men, employees of the Sulphur Company, were overcome with fumes and hurried to the harbor hospital. Their names were given as Frank Luchese, S. Ponelli and C. Salvatore.

The damage is expected to reach many thousands of dollars.

When the flames were seen an alarm was turned in and later two additional alarms were sounded.

Fire Chief Thomas Murphy took personal charge of the fight, which was a stubborn one by reason of the fumes from the sulphur and the smoky nature of the contents of the building.

The fire attracted large crowds from the factories in the vicinity as it burned throughout the noon hour.

Spontaneous combustion is believed to have been responsible for starting the blaze, which was first discovered when an explosion rocked the plant. Thirty-five men employed in the place hurried to safety, but immediately returned to fight the blaze, and were endeavoring to extinguish the flames when the firemen arrived.

It was impossible to obtain an exact estimate of the damage, but it was believed by officers of the concern that it would be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Trouble Renewed at Chicago Shops; Striker Wounded in Indiana.

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., July 14.—With four companies of National Guardsmen patrolling the property of the Missouri Pacific railroad to "preserve order," officials of the road here today announced they would reopen the shops and operate with non-union workers.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 14.—Battery A, 28th Field Artillery, of the Missouri National Guard, was ordered to entrain today for Poplar Bluff to aid in the protection of the Missouri Pacific railroad property there. The battery, under command of Captain Leon R. Sanford, is composed of ninety-four men, two machine guns, eight automatic rifles and a 75-mm field piece.

CHICAGO, July 14.—(By International News Service).—One man, said to be a striking carpenter, was shot twice by a special railroad agent and several others were endangered by flying bullets today in a new outbreak of violence at the Burnside shops of the Illinois Central railroad. The wounded man is Paul Selbinski. He was shot in the hip and arm. Frank E. Probert, a special agent for the railroad, is said to have done the shooting.

The shooting, according to information given the police, followed an attack by two union men upon two non-union workers who were about to enter the shops.

FEW LOCAL MEN INVOLVED IN NEW RAIL WALKOUT

U. S. Court Enjoins Workers From Interference With Those at Work.

Orders to suspend work next Monday, received by all railroad stationery firemen and others from Timothy Healy, president of the Brotherhood, constitute the latest development in the strike of railroad shopmen.

It was stated at the Southern Pacific shops today that the strike of the firemen and others, if it does come into operation, will affect but a small number of men in the West Oakland shops, not more than fifteen or twenty.

Commenting on the official call to the Brotherhood of stationery firemen and others to go on strike next Monday morning, J. C. Good, of the Federal Shopmen, who has charge of the strike situation in the Eastbay, said today:

"Of course this is welcome news to us, but it is not unexpected. Moreover, most of the firemen and others had already walked out with the striking shopmen."

"The solidarity among the men is remarkable. Within the past ten days the strikers have not lost a single man, but every day a few of the handful of men who have remained at work are coming out and joining our ranks."

"There has not been one case of violence at the West Oakland yards, I am glad to say, and there will be none."

A restraining order was issued yesterday by Federal Judge Maurice T. Healy, directed against seven individuals, prohibiting them from interfering with the operation of trains or the employment of men in railroad repair shops. The order was issued on petition of the Southern Pacific Company.

In its petition and complaint the Southern Pacific Company charges that the defendants are responsible for the shooting at Garber and Roseville when guards and bystanders were wounded, and for the recent attempt to wreck the "crow boy" train of the Southern Pacific near Hayward.

The Brotherhood named are the Federation of Railway Employees, No. 114 of the Southern Pacific system, the Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers, the International Association of Machinists, the Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders and Helpers, the Sheet Metal

INDIANAPOLIS—Forty individuals, heads of various railroad shopmen unions in the state of Indiana were named in injunction suits filed in federal court here today by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in an effort to restrain striking shopmen from committing violence on railroad workers.

TOPICKA, Kans.—Warning that union officials who transmit or post strike notices for suspension by stationery engineers, firemen and others will be prosecuted under the industrial court act was given today by Governor H. J. Allen.

AURORA, Ill.—The Aurora Chamber of Commerce today adopted a resolution commending the Burlington shopmen here for their "resolute stand against violence and their success in maintaining order."

LOS ANGELES—Twenty deputies were selected today by the United States marshal for the Southern district of California for duty in the railroad strike, on instructions from the Department of Justice at Washington.

CARSON CITY—An injunction restraining shopmen interfering with the Union Pacific shops at Las Vegas, Nevada, was issued today by Federal court here on a plea of the Union Pacific railroad.

Temporary Strike Ties Up Trains

STOCKTON, July 14.—Not a wheel turned in the Western Pacific yards here for two hours last night when firemen, engineers, conductors, brakemen and switchmen left their jobs following an ultimatum to the railroad officials that all guards be removed.

The trouble arose when a guard is said to have held a revolver on a fireman and ordered him to hold up his hands as the latter was entering the yards to go on duty.

The Big Four men immediately left their jobs and remained out until the guards were transferred.

Workers, the Electrical Workers, the Railway Carmen.

RICHMOND, July 14.—Numerically the walkout of stationery engineers, firemen and others, set for next Monday, will not have much effect in the Richmond strike situation, according to B. G. Warrington, head of the striking shopmen here, this morning. He said that, owing to the fact that electrical power was largely used here there were not over a half dozen affiliated with those crafts in this city.

No serious attempt has been made by either the Santa Fe shops or Pullman plant to resume operations.

Information reaching Grable, He said he could not confirm the reports as he was en route to his headquarters in Detroit from Kansas and would not know what action the general chairman had taken until he reached Detroit.

Meanwhile Chairman Ben W. Hooper speeded up his efforts to influence railroad executives to enter into a conference with the shopmen's union heads in an effort to reach a settlement before the strike spreads.

Serious rioting broke out again here today at the Burnside shops in connection with the strike.

87 PER CENT VOTE FOR WALK-OUT.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEAD WIRE TO BUREAU.

CHICAGO, July 14.—This strike order, which calls out the heart of the railroad power houses, oilers and firemen, is expected to have a far-reaching effect upon the ultimate result of the strike.

The original strike order, which was held in abeyance by Healy until July 3 at the request of Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the United States Railway Labor Board, and issued today, reads as follows:

"In compliance with your strike vote, which is 87 per cent in favor of a walkout, sanction is hereby granted to each and every member of our Brotherhood on all railroads, steam plants, round houses and terminals throughout the United States to suspend work at 8 a. m. on Monday, July 17, 1922."

"I want to see this walkout of the membership of my organization 100 per cent," declared Healy to International News Service.

"We realize that the shopmen are putting up a wonderful fight. Their strike has been more effective than any man could realize."

DANGER SEEN OF FURTHER WALKOUTS.

CHICAGO, July 14.—(By the Associated Press).—Strike threats by maintenance of way employees will break out again today, bringing the rail strike to a new crisis as it tion camouflage. Its real purpose," the New Hampshire senator asserted, "is to show the dye exhibitors that while the foundation had not actually advertised that it was to carry out educational purposes in the field of chemistry, it had spent nearly $200,000 to 'bolster the propaganda for a dye embargo.'"

He introduced a number of letters to show that the Chemical Foundation's agents had had the Bureau of Education, under former Commissioner Claxton, distribute articles about chemistry written by near the end of its second week.

Fresh outbreaks, notably in Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri, President Harding's determined steps to keep the mills moving, and informal negotiations for a settlement of the shopmen's strike on seventeen roads in the Northwest, were among other important developments of the last twenty-four hours.

Pressure by many of his general chairman upon B. E. Grable, president of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers, pushed the common labor problem to the front again.

Grable asserted the general chairman had no authority to call a strike, and he indicated an intention to remain firm in his refusal to sanction a strike.

The maintenance men's chief declared that no especial significance was attached to his midnight conference with B. M. Jewell, the shopmen's strike leader.

DANGER OF "BACK WORKERS' STRIKE."

Grable admitted that he was with difficulty holding his men in line. Many maintenance employees who reluctantly remained at work when the shopmen walked off their jobs July 1 have since joined the strike.

The new crisis caused by threats from the maintenance men and the shopmen's strike had apparently slowed up materially, except for conferences at St. Paul, which lent the only hopeful air to the situation.

The St. Paul conferences between R. A. Henning, chairman of the Federated Shop Crafts of the Northwestern district, and rail officials brought no definite results, but both sides admitted that negotiations had advanced to a stage that gave promise of a settlement of the strike on the 17 roads of the Northwestern group.

Henning went so far as to assert that he believed it was entirely possible to settle the strike on a national basis within forty-eight hours.

DEPUTIES GUARD TRAINS IN EAST.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Dispatching of special deputies for the protection of the mails to various strike centers of New Jersey today had a cheering effect on those responsible for that end of the railroad service. It was reported other centers in the Metropolitan district expected to ask for deputies.

Reports that strike votes were being taken by clerks at the Big Four and the Chesapeake and Ohio inspired the statement by union men that the clerks will probably force the issue on several other lines unless they get conditions on a par with those obtained on the New York Central yesterday.

Army officials at Governor's Island admitted that they had received an inquiry from the war department as to how many soldiers at that post are available for strike duty and the extent of their requirement.

R. E. Ross of the chemical department of the Du Pont Company.

As another illustration of how, he said, great agencies of the government were "victimized by the dyemakers of the country and our public agencies turned to use in private propaganda," the Senator presented correspondence designed to show that the dye exhibitors recently shown at Chicago, Philadelphia, Rochester, N. Y., Washington and other cities, and now in the national museum here, had been financed by the dyemakers, having been prepared in the chemical warfare section of the war department. The correspondence was between Captain C. E. Roberts Jr. and the Du Pont Company, the National Aniline and Chemical Company and other dye concerns.

Of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Company, Senator Moses declared that the people, through advances from the federal treasury during the war, "not only financed the Duponts in the tremendous extension of their business, but were also misled by the Duponts to an extent which enabled the company to increase its plant value to an admitted $220,000,000 while at the same time taking out net profits which in one year amounted to $129,000,000."

DYE INDUSTRY MONOPOLY CLAIMED.

The senator asserted that the Duponts and the National Aniline and Chemical company constituted the monopolistic features of the dye industry in this country and that the Du Pont company, aside from entering into a contract with Levinstein, Ltd., a British concern, to divide the world for the sale of their dyes, had sought also to enter into a world agreement with the Badische Company, the chief producer of dyes, which with the German dye cartel, he added, had been held up "as the bog to men of the dye world," since the agitation for an embargo was started.

After the Badische company declined to enter into the agreement, Senator Moses said, the Dupont company had submitted a proposal to the American trade council in China "that his office should attempt to effect an arrangement whereby the Chinese government would confiscate 18,000 trade-marks held by the Germans for dyes marketed in China, and form a joint Chinese company or an American-British company to license these trade-marks from the Chinese government."

Senator Moses added that for more than a year he had heard nothing of the imperialist plans of the Duponts in Europe or in the Orient, and that the probability that "both schemes have crashed to the ground" was supported "by the pressure the Duponts now are making for a dye embargo in order that they may monopolize the American consumers of the funds which they have found themselves unable to take from war-stricken Europeans or simple minded Orientals."

ALLIANCE ACCUSED OF UNFAIR PRACTICE.

Explaining that the government had entered into an arrangement with the textile alliance to distribute German reparations dyes in this country, Senator Moses charged that the alliance, originally formed to eliminate unfair practices in the textile trades, had in the handling of the dyes, resorted to the most unfair business practices of which there is any record.

He presented a mass of documents relating to the reparations dyes which he said contained "ample proof" of his charge.

Asserting that the alliance had committed its dye interests to a committee of seven members, Senator Moses said this committee, which included in its membership representatives of the Dupont company and the Aniline company, also had been constituted as the advisory committee on dyes for the war trade board. Thus, he added, these two dye concerns had constant representation in everything that was done concerning the reparations dyes and also had access to the private information of the war trade board.

Convicts Flee After Fatal Car Crash

TUCSON, Ariz., July 14.—A statewide search was being made today for Manuel Martinez, under sentence to hang next month, and Placido Silvas, sentenced to life imprisonment, who escaped while on route to the state prison at lips that Mrs. Meadows drive them to a sister's house, indicating it to be in the northeastern section of town. The drive was halted on a hill road, isolated by several hundred feet from houses, when Mrs. Phillips requested Mrs. Meadows to get out of the car for a few moments, saying that she wished to talk to her alone.

Florence when an automobile bearing them and Under-Sheriff Leonard Smith and George White, sheriff of Santa Cruz county, turned over on the Tucson-Nogales highway, killing Sheriff White and injuring Smith. Martinez and Silvas were convicted for the murder of J. Frank Pearson, postmaster at Ruby, and his wife in a raid about a year ago.

THREATENED IF SHE INTERFERED, WITNESS SAYS. Mrs. Meadows left the car and Mrs. Phillips followed, according to the story of Mrs. Caffee. On the road, a short distance from the car, Mrs. Phillips, according to Mrs. Caffee, accused Mrs. Meadows of intimacy with Phillips. Mrs. Meadows denied this, and in repeating accusations and in a sudden anger, Mrs. Phillips swung her hand from behind her back, clenching the hammer she had concealed, and began to rain blows upon Mrs. Meadows, according to Mrs. Caffee.

"She screamed for me to help her," said Mrs. Caffee.

"Mrs. Phillips menaced me with the hammer and threatened death if I interfered. Mrs. Meadows moved back terrified from the blows, and then broke the grip which Mrs. Phillips had upon her and ran down the road. Mrs. Phillips pursued and caught her and brought her back and began beating her again with the hammer."

"After she fell I became sick and walked away down the road. I was soon overtaken by Mrs. Phillips. She was driving the car, Mrs. Meadows's car, alone. She made me get in with her. She again threatened me with death if I ever said a word about the affair. She drove downtown and let me off at one of the downtown streets, and drove away."

Mrs. Caffee was detained by the police.

GIRL WHIPS BOOTLEGGER. OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—Miss Elizabeth Thurston blacked both eyes of a bootlegger and broke his nose for selling liquor to her father.

Man Discloses Wife as Slayer of Triangle Rival

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sheriff W. I. Traeger, his wife, who is a deputy sheriff, and two newspapermen, also deputies, left this morning for Tucson, Arizona, to bring back to Los Angeles Mrs. Clara Phillips, who was taken from an eastbound train at the Arizona city last night, charged with the slaying here of Mrs. Alberta Meadows.

The body was not identified until A. L. Phillips, an oil promoter, called upon the sheriff and, according to the latter, said his wife, 23 years old, had confessed to him that she had killed Mrs. Meadows because of what the husband termed "unwarranted jealousy."

Sheriff Traeger said Phillips declared he had helped his wife clean blood from her clothes and had purchased her a ticket to El Paso, Texas.

Later, it was said, the husband upon the advice of an attorney, told his story to the sheriff.

Sheriff Traeger, in making public the details of the case as he said he had received them from Phillips, declared the slaying, which had been accompanied by great brutality, and had excited the entire city since the discovery of the body on a hillside, within three feet of Montecito river, in the northeastern part of the city, was completely solved.

SHERIFF'S SUMMARY OF SLAYING AND SEQUEL.

The sheriff summed up case up as follows:

An unwarranted jealousy; a sudden planning of the slaying; a clever decoy to get the victim to the scene of the murder; the fight between the two women, evenly matched in size and age; the blow with the hammer; the stealing of the slain girl's automobile; a flight home; a confession to the husband; his efforts to aid her in leaving the state; the disposal of the automobile; the departure on the train; and—the arrest at Tucson.

Mrs. Meadows, the sheriff said Phillips told him, had been a widow several months, her husband having been killed by electricity here several months ago. The widow, employed as a bookkeeper at a bank, left that institution about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. She had a small automobile parked at Ninth and Main streets.

When she reached the parking place she was accosted by Mrs.

Phillips, who said she had been down town shopping, one of her purchases having been a hammer.

ACCOSTED BY WIFE AND ASKED FOR RIDE.

"Are you going home?" Mrs. Phillips said to have asked.

"Yes."

"Have you time to take me home?"

"Yes, I've nothing to do the rest of the afternoon."

"Then I wish you'd take me to my sister's home," Mrs. Phillips was alleged to have requested.

They entered the runabout and Mrs. Phillips was said to have directed Mrs. Meadows to the lonely Montecito drive. When they reached the spot where the body of Mrs. Meadows was later found, according to the sheriff, Mrs. Phillips said:

"Let's get out. I want to talk something over with you."

Both left the machine.

Then, according to the sheriff's version of events Mrs. Phillips demanded:

"I want to know your relations with my husband."

QUARREL FOLLOWS CHARGES OF IMPROPRIETY.

The young widow denied anything improper and the wife, according to the sheriff's story, countered with a recital of a number of alleged incidents to which she attached importance, but which Phillips told the sheriff were only "idle gossip by neighbors."

The wife and the widow, quarreling over the man, grew angry, the sheriff asserted.

Hot words passed. Then, it is alleged, Mrs. Phillips struck the widow with her recently purchased hammer. A struggle followed, lasting several minutes.

"Mrs. Phillips told her husband that she struck Mrs. Meadows' head again and again with the hammer," said Sheriff Traeger. "When all life was gone and the head crushed in at several places, the body was left where it had fallen, less than a yard from the roadside."

"Mrs. Phillips is an expert driver of automobiles. She climbed into Mrs. Meadows' car and drove home. Her clothing was blood-soaked. Her hair was disheveled. She was on the verge of a collapse. She rushed into her husband's presence, crying:

"Don't leave, don't leave! I've killed the one you love best! You'll never see her again! Oh, I can't live without you."

"You are in a horrible condition," her husband replied.

"And while she sobbed out her story he helped her wash her clothing in the bath tub."

"They decided her sister and mother, living in the same house, must not know, so they left the house as quickly as possible. Their first problem was the disposal of the widow's automobile. They solved it by Mrs. Phillips' driving it to Pomona, 30 miles east of Los Angeles, while her husband followed in his own car. They left the Meadows' machine at the old Greek Theater there and returned to Los Angeles in the car."

"Mrs. Phillips registered at a downtown hotel, and remained overnight, while her husband walked the street, trying to decide what to do. Early this morning he phoned her and they decided she would leave for El Paso, Tex. He borrowed $50 from a friend, as the banks were not yet open, and, giving her what money he had about him, they bought a ticket and she boarded the train which left at 8:30 o'clock in the morning."

"Phillips watched her walk toward the train. Then, for hours, he debated with himself what he should do. He decided to consult his attorney. It was after that he came to me and told his story."

Quick checks were made on Phillips' story. The Meadows automobile was located at Pomona. Mrs. Phillips' sister, Miss Ola Weaver, was questioned, but her mother was not told of the suspicions against her other daughter.

VICTIM'S PARENTS AID IN IDENTIFICATION.

The dead woman's sister, Miss Genora Tremain, is employed at the same bank, but she had not missed Mrs. Meadows, as they did not live together and she had not reported for work herself today. Their parents, Fred A. and Mrs. Anna Tremain, were located. They helped in the identification.

Convinced the story of Phillips was correct Sheriff Traeger telegraphed to the chief of police at Tucson:

"Arrest Mrs. Clara Phillips, alias Mrs. R. S. Jackson, wanted for brutal murder. Have wired conductor. Search her thoroughly to prevent suicide. Wire when under arrest. Will send officer."

He gave also the woman's description, the train she was on and the time it was due at Tucson.

Phillips was permitted to leave the sheriff's office in the custody of a deputy.

MRS. PHILLIPS CALM. ENJOYS A GOOD SLEEP.

TUCSON, Ariz., July 14.—(By International News Service.)—Calm, smiling, unruffled by the knowledge that she is accused of one of the most gruesome crimes in the criminal annals of California, Mrs. Clara Phillips, attractive 23-year-old wife of A. L. Phillips, Los Angeles oil promoter, sat in a cell in the Tucson jail here today, awaiting the arrival tonight of Sheriff William Traeger and Mrs. Traeger to take her back to Los Angeles to be formally charged with beating to death with a hammer pretty 20-year-old Alberta Meadows.

Taken into custody last night by Tucson authorities on telegraphic advices from Los Angeles, and told she was under arrest as the hammer slayer, Mrs. Phillips powdered her nose, expressed mild surprise, denied her guilt, ate a hearty dinner and then went to bed to sleep as peacefully as though she did not lie in the shadow of the gallows.

Throngs Gather at Two Fetes to Fall of Bastille

One hundred and thirty-three years ago today the people of Paris, driven to desperation by the sight of their starving children, sallied forth from the noisome corners of the Faubourgs, burst open the gates of the king's ancient prison-fortress that dominated their lives, and tore down the hated Bastille. The French revolution commenced. A circle of stones, laid in the pavement, is all that remains where once the Bastille stood.

The French communities of the Eastbay today commemorated this great event of history at two celebrations, one at Idora park and the other at Neptune Beach. The Idora park celebration was the official event and was attended as such by representatives of the French consulate-general, Mayor John L. Davis of Oakland, P. G. P. Faret and C. C. Moore were among the speakers at Idora park. A feature of the day was the "roll call" of the French community who died on the field of battle.

MAYOR DAVIS SPEAKS.

In addressing the gathering Mayor Davis said: "We have gathered here today to observe the one hundred and thirty-third anniversary of the birth of the French republic, and to pay honor to the splendid record of liberty which has been made by France since that momentous occasion on July 14, 1789.

"On behalf of the people of this land I deem it an honor and a privilege to be with you upon this occasion and to tell you once again of the spirit of cordial friendship and honest respect which all our people have for the members of our French colony. The people of France who have come to our shores and who make this country and our city their home form one of the very finest classes of our American citizenry. France and America goth have, as the underlying principles of their governmental structure, liberty, freedom and democracy, and the two nations are known throughout the length and breadth of the world as the great sister republics.

PROUD OF FRANCE.

"France has produced citizens of whom we may well be proud. In addition to being among the first citizens of France, one of these performed services which have won the undying gratitude of the people of the United States. This was Lafayette, who by his unselfish assistance at the time of the American revolution, enabled our country to withstand the attempt being made to prevent the founding of our government, and because of his aid we are today the greatest nation in the world. ## Hungry Burglar Is Trapped in Hotel Chimney

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—A carefully laid plan to gain entrance to a cafe by a circuitous route early today, failed when Chris Hanson, a sailor, out of employment, was caught in a burglar trap, had a narrow escape from death and finally had to be rescued by the fire department. He was so unnerved by his experience that he almost welcomed being locked up on a charge of attempted burglary.

Hanson pleaded hunger as his reason for desiring to make his way into the Oyster Grotto at 409 Drumm street. He figured out that a certain chimney led into the cafe and last night went to the rear of his hotel, 87 Broadway, constructed a rude scaffold and climbed into the fire.

Dropping down two stories he found himself trapped with no way of making his escape. The chimney was in the Albers Hotel, 46 Jackson street.

After hours in the chimney, Hanson's cries were heard by Robert Reneke, the manager, who endeavored to rescue him. He could not get him out and the police were summoned. They in turn called Truck 13 of the Fire Department and a hole was bored in the chimney, ropes let down and Hanson finally extricated.

When he appeared he looked like a negro and the police were not certain as to his race until he had been given a bath at the Harbor Emergency hospital, when he emerged a pronounced blonde. He was little the worse for his experience.

SKULL FRACTURED.
NAPA, July 14.—Dee Moore, 50 years old, employed in a local soft-drink establishment, suffered a basal fracture of the skull when he fell down a flight of steps at his home early today.

DRIVER ARRESTED.

J. C. Randolph, of 1442, Stanage street, Berkeley, was arrested for intoxication last night, following an automobile accident, when he drove his car into the machine of Virde Boyer, 1919 Francisco street, Berkeley, which was standing in front of a house at 524 Fifty-second street.

Then they listened to Mohammed, mounted their horses, and in less than a century they had pushed to the heart of Europe.—The Story of Mankind.

POLICE WOMEN'S WORK PRAISED

There are one thousand police women in the United States who are college graduates, and they are distributed over 300 different communities. Mrs. J. P. Buwalda of Berkeley, and formerly a police woman of Washington, D. C., told the members of the Mutual Business Club at their luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday.

Mrs. Buwalda said that science has taken the place of the former rough-and-ready methods employed in police work. The "knock-em-down and drag-em-out methods" had become obsolete, she added.

From the point of view of the policewoman, Mrs. Buwalda said, an ounce of crime prevention was worth many pounds of cure, and therefore the police woman takes great pains in tracing the cause rather than the effect of crime. Actual investigation of crime, undertaken by policewomen, had given better results than the study of criminality from text books, Mrs. Buwalda said.

Discussing the organization of police women, the speaker stated that the women work best when organized into bureaus, and that the recent San Francisco conference of police chiefs had done great work in standardizing the police woman's work.

Men Arrested for Sale of Linoleum

Morris Miller, Charles Bromberg and Harry Katcher are under arrest on suspicion of being the men who distributed a quantity of linoleum to Oakland housewives yesterday under misrepresentation. The arrest followed reports from Mrs. Mary Douglas of 721 Thirty-seventh avenue, and Mrs. J. T. Donaghy of Leona Heights.

According to the police, Mrs. Douglas paid $10.50 to the men for a piece of linoleum sufficient to cover her kitchen floor. When she untrolled the piece she found that it was half the size she paid for. Mrs. Donaghy paid $10 for 15 yards to discover that she had received only 10 yards.

Come to an End Saturday

Goods of tremendous value make their last call at economy pricings. Plan to spend several hours here because every department has its tempting offerings for you to see.

"Open House" and Open Hearts

Isn't it true that we choose our friends and our stores by our hearts as well as our heads?

How we warm to the person whose spirit of hospitality and good-fellowship is so unvarying that we just know it must be based on the desire to make others happy.

Hospitality and selfishness cannot exist together. Just as in the old days our ancestors kept "open house" and dispensed the good things of life in bountiful measure to every comer, so can we in this busy, hurried age, keep at least spiritual "open house," and add that much to the good cheer of the world.

At this store we strive to make the "open house" idea a true expression of the open heart.

Australian Woman To Study Colonies

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Because Australia is a country of colonizing opportunity, and its leaders have heard that California had developed a unique scheme of cooperation with land settlers, Mrs. Ethel Mortimer Langdon of Sydney, has arrived in this city to push a study of land development. She is registered at Hotel Stewart. ### U. S. Housing Agents Charged With Fraud

Delarino, that he was induced by false promises of representatives of the United States Housing commission, Washington, D. C., to purchase a $150,000 hotel at Vallejo, Martin Laffe of Oakland, yesterday charged the commission with fraud in a complaint filed in the United States District Court. The complaint was filed by Attorney Raymond Benjamin, representing Laffe. According to Laffe, agents of the commission persuaded him to buy the Bay Terrace Hotel at Vallejo, which was being operated by the government for the benefit of employees working at the Mare Island shipyards, informing him that Mare Island was to become the Pacific Coast naval base and that the keel of the battleship Montana was to be laid there and construction completed. Laffe says the agents told him, would bring four or five thousand extra employees there. He said that he bought the property for $150,000 and paid $25,000 as the first installment, and then received notice that his contract was cancelled and he was evicted from the premises by the housing agents. He asks for return of the installment he paid.

ROMANCE KILLED, CHINESE GIRL, 16, ESSAYS SUICIDE

Grace Chan Prefers Death to Life Without Lover; Will Recover, Belief.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Sixteen-year-old Grace Chan, whose sister, Lena Leong Chan, killed herself three years ago when her romance was shattered by her mother, is recovering today from the effects of poison which she drank last night following the annulment of her marriage to 22-year-old George Sue, with whom she eloped on May 27.

The annulment was obtained last Tuesday by the girl's mother, on the ground that her daughter was under legal age. According to Miss Chan her mother opposed the marriage because she preferred her daughter to have a wealthy husband.

Mrs. Chan was preparing to sail with her daughter for China to search for a rich husband, when Grace took the affair in her own hands in approved American girl fashion, climbed down the fire escape of her home at daybreak on May 27 and eloped with Sue.

Following the annulment Mrs. Chan placed the girl in the Chinese Presbyterian Mission, 920 Sacramento street, where a close watch was kept over her to prevent her attempting suicide.

In some ways the girl obtained poison, and while left alone a moment last night put the bottle to her lips. Matrons at the mission returned just in time to knock the bottle out of her hands before she had drunk more than a small portion of its contents.

"I won't live without him," Grace cried out, making a vain attempt to resist taking an antidote administered by hospital attendants.

STATE'S BUDGET HEARINGS WILL OPEN AUGUST 15

Proposed Appropriations To Be Submitted to Legislature With Full Data.

SACRAMENTO, July 14.—The State Budget board, consisting of State Controller Ray L. Riley and the State Board of Control, is preparing to submit to the legislature a budget for the next two years with sufficient detail to enable legislators to vote intelligently on each item.

The budget will show the amount of actual expenditure in previous years, the actual receipts for the same period and a careful estimate of the needs for the next two year period, with reasons therefor.

It is planned to start hearings on requests for appropriations about August 15, after which comes the work of pruning these requests, selecting the more important improvements and getting estimates of costs. The last budget board eliminated more than $24,000,000 from the requests submitted to it.

Another task before the board is an exhaustive study of prices, especially in food, clothing, dry goods, drugs, lumber, cement and building materials. This study not only covers present prices, but the future tendency.

According to an old English superstition, this prophecy applies to July 15th, named after St. Swithin, who was a famous builder of churches and bridges and was made Bishop of Winchester. Whether it rains or shines in England you may be sure it will shine here Saturday, 'CAUSE WE HAVE A "RAIN OF BARGAINS" AND A SHOWER OF "HOT ONES" that will make your eyes shine with appreciation at the values. Come early and let the sunshine into your purse. Films printed and developed—8-hour service.

BULGAR WOMEN REBEL AGAINST STATE WORK ACT

Law Compelling Ten Days Yearly To Be Given in Labor Creates Crisis.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, July 14.—When Premier Stamboulsky conceived the idea that it would be a good thing to compel every able-bodied man and woman in Bulgaria to work ten days a year for the state, he probably expected the trouble which has ensued, for he is described as a far-sighted statesman with an active imagination. In any event he has entered the lists to defend the weak spots in his innovation, and his principal opponents are the young women of the land.

In the first place the young Moslem women of Bulgaria have refused point blank to do a thing. They cite the position given them in their homes by their religion, and refer the authorities to various groups of fanatics and brothers armed with knives, pistols and rifles, who are violently opposed to their female relatives donating their labor to the state. The premier has promised that they be deprived of their vote, and has threatened arrest. The women still resist passively. Now Stamboulsky says they will work for the government, or he will know the reason why.

SEPTEMBER HOLDS CRISIS. September will be interesting, for then the 1922 class of women will be called to labor without pay in public buildings, gardens, etcetera. And the women other than the Moslem fanatics say they will work when the Moslem women do, in the meantime offering encouragement and support to their belligerent sisters.

There also have been called to the public gardens, as it were, professional men from the cities, men unused to hard labor, whose soft hands daily attach white collars to silk shirts. In the beginning they went through the motions of work but did virtually nothing. Why labor when one could soldier? Then the gang bosses gave piece work; each man could quit when his suit was done. As a result two hours often sufficed for what previously had not been completed in ten. But little by little the bosses increased the allotments, and now the inevitable reaction has set in. The bourgeoisie are daily complaining of sore backs; blistered hands; bad eyesight; sunstroke; hunger; thirst; and other handicaps.

DON'T LOVE COUNTRY. "These rotten bourgeois don't love their country, are lazy and in-

NEWCOMER HAS MUCH TO LEARN

"You know, Elsie, I can't believe this is summer. Oakland surely has the most peculiar summer weather of any place I know." "That's what every one says their first summer here. They get used to it soon and like it." "Oh, I think it is wonderful. I always will when the thermometer goes climbing up." "So do I. I have lived here three years, though, now and I would like to get a chance at a summer dress again. My sister lives in Sacramento and it gets hot as everything up there. She tells me all about her pretty organdies, ginghams and things. In San Francisco one wears the same clothes the year around. Suit and a top coat when it's cooler." "One thing I shall like about it is that one can get along with lots fewer clothes and get good ones. That's due to the similarity of seasons." "Yes, and I want to tell you a good place to buy clothes here. A newcomer has a hard time learning all these things. But, anyway, you must learn about Cherry's. A wonderful place at 515 13th street. One can get stunning suits, hats, dresses, coats and even furs out there at such reasonable prices. And the best thing is that one can make arrangements to pay when most convenient. So much down and the rest on monthly payments." Cherry's store for men is at 523 13th street.—Advertisement.

capable," declared Stamboulsky, exasperated at not being able to force work out of the men mobilized. The law has given rise to many amusing situations. It is pointed out that Stamboulsky himself has not done any work. As a cabinet minister he is exempt. Likewise all pleasant field laborers, farmers and city workmen are exempt, and as the population of Bulgaria is largely agricultural, the law applies mostly to professional men, such as lawyers, dentists, doctors and shopkeepers. The newspapermen turned out as a body and did their work cheerfully; found that it did them good physically, and then went home to write amusing articles based on their experiences.

NEW POST FOR BARNES. ## WANTED: QUEEN! APPLY TO KING BORIS, BULGARIA

SOFIA, Bulgaria, July 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Despairing of finding an American wife for King Boris, Premier Stamboulsky is understood to have asked David Lloyd George to suggest a suitable English mate for the lonely monarch. To this the British prime minister is said to have replied humorously that he had not yet been able to find a wife for the Prince of Wales and that Boris would have to wait, as the supply of royal princesses and other titled ladies in Europe seemed to be depleted. When the correspondent asked the king about his reported desire to marry, he said laughingly: "If you believe what some of our neighbors say, my throne is rather insecure and might not support two." After being asked if he desired to wed an American girl as suggested by Stamboulsky, he replied: "Well, not this year, nor next. I'm too busy rebuilding my country and must deny myself all social pleasures, but I have great admiration for the American women, and I'm sure they make excellent wives." To the question: "Would you prefer a pretty woman rather than a practical one?" the youthful ruler, with a twinkle in his eye, answered: "Well, all American girls are pretty, are they not?" GIRL DIES OF INJURIES. CLATSkanie, Ore., July 14.—Francis Anderson, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, who live near Delena, Ore., died in a hospital at Hanter Wednesday night of injuries suffered when he was run over by an automobile driven by A. Under strike conditions best explained by Chairman Ben W. Hooper, of the United States Railroad Labor Board, in his statement of July 1, reading as follows:

"In this case, the conflict is not between the employer and the oppressed employees. The people of this country, through an act of Congress, signed by President Wilson, established a tribunal to decide such disputes over wages and working conditions, which are submitted to it in a proper manner. It is the decision by this tribunal against, which the shop crafts are striking.
 "Regardless of any question of the right of the men to strike, the men who take the strikers' places are merely accepting the wages and working conditions prescribed by a Government Tribunal and are performing a public service. They are not accepting the wages and working conditions which an employer is trying to impose. For this reason, public sentiment and full Government power will protect the men who remain in their positions and new men who may come in."

Adequate provisions have been made for the full protection of new employees, the same as old employees who remained loyally at work. Applicants should apply at SOUTHERN PACIFIC Employment Bureau, Room 7, 65 Market Street, San Francisco, (open 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. daily, including Sundays), or any of the following offices: Superintendent (3rd Street Station), San Francisco; Oakland Pier, Sacramento; Stockton, Dunnsmuir, Bakersfield, Los Angeles; Assistant Superintendents, Sparks, Nevada, and Roseburg, Oregon; Superintendent Motive Power, Sacramento and Los Angeles.

SALARY BOOST FOR OFFICIALS OF CITY URGED

Good Government League
Speaker Says Pay No
Lure for Able Men.

That the salaries fixed for mayor and commissioners of Oakland, under the city charter, were not sufficient to call men of ability to the management of municipal affairs, was declared by Leroy Goodrich, representing the Good Government League, before the Business and Professional Women's club at dinner last night. He responded to an amendment which would increase the annual salary of the mayor from $4200 to $7500 and of the commissioners from $3800 to $6000.

Commissioners Carter and Colbourn since their election have saved the city many thousands of dollars and are carrying on the work of their offices at great personal sacrifices, according to Goodrich. The municipal auditorium has been turned into a profit-making institution for the first time, under Commissioner Carter, the speaker said. He asserted that Commissioner Colbourn had been offered by a large industry a position at a salary double that which the city is paying. That these municipal salaries were fixed eleven years ago and that, since that time, 75 per cent of the best business buildings have been erected, was reviewed by Goodrich.

BACKS BOND DRIVE.
"If we do not save Oakland's aqueduct it will be the shame of Oakland," was the keynote of a short address by Howard Gilkey, city landscape engineer, Gilkey urged the clubwomen to active participation in the campaign for bonds for the purchase of 1491 acres of Mountain Park land, to be dedicated as a memorial to the heroic dead of Oakland, which will be submitted to the voters of the city on August 29.

With the adoption of the proposed water and power act to be submitted to the voters of California in November, W. A. D'Egillert, representing the Greater California League, opposing the measure, told the clubwomen that the bonds in California would be increased from $30 to $180 per capita, and that 43 per cent of the bonded indebtedness of all the states in the union would be recorded here.

SUPPORT FROM L. A.
He claimed that 43,000 of the 58,000 names signed to the petition in the interests of the water and power act are registered from Los Angeles county.

"The prodigies of California soil was $400,000 less than the taxes and interest on its bonds in this state last year," D'Egillert said. He urged women to read the proposed amendment carefully and determine for themselves whether they wanted such wide powers as were granted placed in the hands of five men appointed by the governor.

Miss Bird Wilson was the general chairman of the program.

Committee Chosen for Fire Prevention Campaign

A definite step in the direction of co-operative fire prevention activity was taken last night at a mass meeting held in the assembly hall of The TRIBUNE under the auspices of the Contra Costa Hills club by the appointment of a committee to handle the details of the campaign.

The members of the committee are: Paul I. Daniels, sanitary engineer of the East Bay Water company, secretary; Fire Chief S. H. Short, with the option of naming some other member of the fire department to take his place; E. F. Barnes, state district fire ranger; Charles Keeler, secretary of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce; S. H. Phelan, engineer maintenance of way, San Francisco-Sacramento railroad; James H. L'Honnemieu, vice president and general manager of the Realty Syndicate company; Professor Woodbridge Metcalf, assistant professor in the forestry division at the University of California.

Charles E. Warner, a member of the board of directors of the Contra Costa Hills club, was named as an ex-officio member of the committee. Warner occupied the chair at last night's meeting.

The appointment of the committee was preceded by a general discussion. The speakers expressed themselves in part as follows:

E. F. Barnes: "I've been all over the hills several times and I find them in a dirty condition through carelessness on the part of campers and picnickers who have left their lunch boxes and papers scattered about. The trails will make good firebreaks if cleaned off and widened a little. I suggest that we clean up the hills and widen the fire trails."

Paul I. Daniels: "I am interested from a scenic standpoint and from the standpoint of cleanliness. It looks bad and is dangerous. The water company stands ready to do anything in the way of fire protection that is suggested."

J. B. Kerfoot, of the park board: "Tomorrow a man will be put on permanently in the work of fire protection and prevention in the hills. We expect to have a crew at work in a week or ten days to clear up the trees that are down."

READY TO AID WORK.
R. W. Robinson, Oakland recreation department: "The smaller hills are always of great use in fighting the beginning of a fire, but in case of a large fire it is of great importance to clear away the underbrush on the crest of the hills. The recreation department is ready to co-operate in the work of fire prevention."

Professor Woodbridge Metcalf: "The work of fire fighting and fire prevention is not spectacular. It is a good hard job of doing the little things first. It takes co-ordinated action. The time to fight fires is in the winter time. Get ready during the rainy season to handle the fires when they are small. Bring before the board of supervisors the need for fire protection. We need a fire protective ordinance in Alameda county. The idea of the necessity of fire protection must be kept before the people."

H. A. Mitchell, vice-president and general manager, San Francisco-Sacramento Railroad: "The educational part is an important thing. Bulletins should be posted in the canyons and other places. It would also be a good idea to have the canyons patrolled on holidays and the people who are on outings to put out their fires before they go to sleep."

Charles Keeler: "I would suggest a chain letter, sent to the superintendent of schools of Oakland and Berkeley to be sent to each teacher to be written on the blackboard and copied by each pupil. It might run something like this: 'Dear Parent: I want to ask you, when you go to the hills to think what it might mean to throw away matches, etc. I want to ask you to carry home waste paper and rubbish and leave the hills as beautiful as you find them.' The letter could then be given to the child as a trust, for delivery to the parents. Later we could make it a state-wide campaign. I would suggest also that the Chambers of Commerce of Oakland, Berkeley and other Eastern cities tie up on this project. The Berkeley Chamber of Commerce is ready to do anything that is suggested."

WOULD HAVE POSTERS.
E. E. Thornton, secretary of the Eastbay Safety Council: "On behalf of the Safety Council and the traction company suggests that a poster be put in the cars, just as we have done in the careful crossing campaign and other safety campaigns. If you frame up a bulletin I will have it in the cars by Saturday night."

E. Fritsch, Oakland Real Estate Board: "My purpose in coming is to see what we could do to help the movement along."

E. J. Engler, vice-president of Civic League of Improvement Clubs: "Undoubtedly something should be done. Whatever plan is settled upon will have the co-operation of the Save the Scenic Committee and also of the Civic League of Improvement Clubs."

Fire Chief Short: "If the unemployed situation exists next year we can clean up the whole canyon and give the men work at the same time. If the council allows a little more funds in the spring, with the aid of Mr. Goodrich I think we can make a wonderful showing. We must get together and formulate some plan of clearing underbrush, etc., that will be satisfactory both to those interested in fire protection only and those interested in the beauties of nature as well."

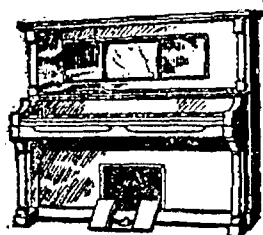

Harding Ready to Risk Mine Control
BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—President Harding considers that he has power as chief executive of the United States to operate coal mines in an emergency, it was said today at the White House. There was no statement, however, as to whether the executive considers the present such an emergency, but the existence of power in the government for the purpose, has been definitely determined in the minds of responsible officials, it was indicated.

About the only risk that a president could run in drastic action of the kind involved in controlling coal mines to get them operated would be that of impeachment, a spokesman for the administration said, and President Harding, it was said, is willing to take the risk if he considers it necessary to serve the public welfare.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and other national officers of the union who have been negotiating with the government since President Harding offered arbitration to settle the coal strike, are preparing to recommend to their associates in the union control that the government's plan be rejected.

Germany Will Pay Installment Today
PARIS, July 14.—The German embassy today announced that 30,000,000 gold marks of the July reparations installment will be paid today.

It is presumed that the other two million marks will be given to the allies tomorrow, when the full 32,000,000 marks payment is due.

BOGUS FEDERAL AGENT PASSES CHECKS, CAUGHT

Valou McDonald Accused of Stealing Auto, May Face
Mann Act Charge.

Word of the arrest at Denver of Valou McDonald, alias Samell E. Ayres, who is wanted here for passing a number of bogus checks, and for the theft of an automobile from Mrs. S. B. Ayres of 1438 Jackson street, was received here today by Captain of Detectives Walter J. Petersen. His arrest occurred as a result of descriptions broadcast by the local department.

When arrested, according to the telegram received by the local officers, McDonald was with a young woman who gave the name of Miss Anna Rathbun, and admitted she drove from Oakland to Denver. She refused to say where she lived. "I've been duped," she cried as she was arrested by detectives. "Ayres told me he was a real secret service man, and I believed it. He passed a number of checks as a government agent on route here." McDonald will probably be prosecuted under a federal charge, it was said. There are two, according to police, which can be lodged against him, violation of the Mann act, and impersonating a government officer. According to local officers, McDonald passed a number of fictitious checks in this city. The automobile, which belongs to Mrs. Ayres, who is no relation to the man in custody at Denver, was stolen from San Francisco. Police say the man probably assumed Mrs. Ayres' name and initials to make good his escape.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very clean and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement.

JUDGE ABSOLVES GLORIA, MOTHER OF CONSPIRACY

Film Star Cleared of Plot to Influence Will of Stepfather.

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Gloria Swanson, motion picture actress, and Mrs. Matthew Burns, her mother, did not conspire to get Burned to make a will in favor of his wife and against the interests of other relatives. This ruling was made yesterday by the judge of the probate department of the Superior Court, James C. Rives.

Judge Rives also held that Miss Swanson and her mother had not conspired to secure the marriage of the latter with Burns. This disposed of two of the contentions made by the contesting relatives and left only the question of the sanity of Burns at the time he made his will.

Miss Swanson's name was frequently mentioned in the evidence, the witnesses for the contestants presenting stories to indicate she had exercised her personal charm to influence Burns in her own behalf and in favor of her mother.

LITERATURE CUTS OUT SEX APPEAL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—American taste in literature is steadily rising, and is gradually eliminating sex appeal of the more pronounced types, according to George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post for the past twenty-five years, who is at the St. Francis today in the course of an annual tour of the United States.

Lorimer declared that one of his principal jobs consists of tightening up on the literary standards of the Post to keep pace with new advancements in public taste.

"Since the war we have made the magazine completely over three times," he said. "Just as the movies are constantly educating their audiences to an appreciation of better and better pictures," said Lorimer, "so the magazines are constantly elevating the literary tastes of their millions of readers. As the result of this, it is necessary for the magazine to keep improving their own standards to keep in the van of public taste."

The pronounced sex themes of much modern so-called literature are on the decline, according to Lorimer, who pointed out that not only are the majority of editors eliminating them from their pages, but that even the magazines that were founded to cater to this appeal are now "soft-pedaling."

MAN, TOSSED BY ENGINE, CLINGS TO SMOKESTACK

BRAINTREE, Mass., July 14.—Albert Cowatt was rejoicing today over his escape from death when a train struck two automobiles at a grade crossing. Thrown from the car he was driving to the top of the locomotive he clung to the smoke stack and when the train stopped at a station, 150 yards from the scene of the accident he climbed down. Except for minor bruises he was uninjured. A woman was killed and another woman and a man were injured seriously in the accident. Say you saw it in The TRIBUNE.

SANTA CRUZ ISLAND SUIT.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—The state supreme court yesterday granted a rehearing in the case of Agnes Cappucco vs. Arthur J. Caffre, a partition suit filed by Cappucco asking a division of Santa Cruz island in the Santa Barbara group. It is very difficult to understand the people of by-gone ages. Your own grandfather is a mysterious being.—The Story of Mankind.

WAREHOUSE FIRE MAKES HARD FIGHT

MODESTO, Cal., July 14.—Fire which broke out in a warehouse district of Modesto early this morning and for a time threatened to spread over a big area, was controlled after burning a large warehouse used as a commissary for a restaurant operating in a number of valley towns with headquarters here, and two smaller buildings. The loss will approximate $20,000. The entire fire fighting force of Modesto responded to a general alarm and the flames mounting high into the sky created a general fear that a heavy loss would result for a time.

The buildings were frame and were covered by insurance.

Small blazes in several other buildings were extinguished before damage was done.

Jerusalem, June 14.—The industrial development of Palestine under the Jews is moving forward in leaps and bounds, and this in spite of the many trade quarrels that have sprung up of late between employer and employee.

During the past year no less than 4000 licenses were issued for new trades and industries in Palestine. The extent of this development can be judged from the fact that prior to 1921 only 2500 licenses were registered by the government. This means that nearly two-thirds of the enterprises in Palestine were started within the last year.

The capital invested in each of these new ventures ranges from $20,000 to $50,000, but with such notable exceptions as the Silicate company, of Jaffa, with a capital of $500,000, and the Standard Oil company, now exploiting the Dead Sea Basin.

A tract of 500 acres of land has been bought by British Jewish interests and will be devoted to home and factory buildings, while American interests are starting a building and loan association, and a savings bank. A casino, two bathing establishments and electric lights are among the attractions of an "American" seaside resort which has sprung up on the sands stretching to the north of Jaffa.

Utility Certificate May Be Modified

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—The railroad commission established yesterday the principle that a certificate of public convenience and necessity granted a utility may be modified to meet changed conditions, by ordering a division of territory in Vallejo and vicinity between the Vallejo Electric Light and Power Company and the Great Western Power Company of California.

Both companies had been granted certificates authorizing them to serve electricity in the same territory, but the commission held that it had power to modify a previous order or decision at any time and in this case acted to prohibit wasteful competition and duplication of lines.

WILSMEN WILL MEET HERE IN '23

The 1923 convention of the International Association of Specialty Salesmen will be held in Oakland, and will bring approximately 2000 visitors to this city. It was announced today by Albert G. Burns, maintenance officer in the First National bank building, following his return last night from the organization's 1922 convention in Cedar Point, Ohio.

Burns said the organization's expansion made it necessary to give it an international instead of a national designation through the addition to membership of specialty salesmen's organization in Europe. Burns has been made international president of the association.

Club Plans Outing At Camp Cinderella

Members of the Contra Costa hills club will hold their weekly outing at Camp Cinderella tomorrow and Sunday and plans have been made by Harold French, the organizer for a musical series of events in celebration of the inauguration of the "Save the Sequoias" campaign by local interests.

On Sunday the hikers will act as guides to visitors to the camp and will also patrol the entire district for fires as part of their volunteer work on the fire-prevention program. The hiking party leaves the end of the Park Boulevard line at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and proceed to the camp up Palo Seco canyon.

Visitors to the camp on Sunday are advised by French to follow the Joaquin Miller road and motorists will find parking space in Joaquin Miller park.

LESSON NO. 106. Characteristics of the Three-Element Tube

(Copyright by Edward M. Davis) (All rights reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction prohibited.)

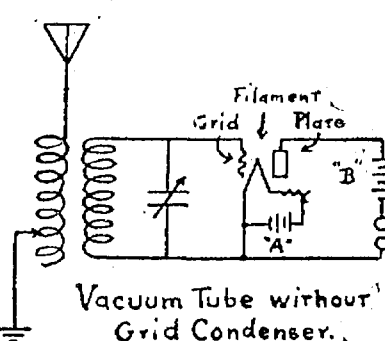

In a vacuum tube each of the three elements, namely the filament, grid and plate, have important functions to perform and these functions are so closely related that any change in the operation of one of the elements invariably produces changes in the condition of the other two.

Several different groups of characteristic curves may be constructed which demonstrate the various relations existing between the elements of the tube. For example a group of curves may be developed which show the resultant plate current due to changes in the plate voltage, the curves being dependent upon the temperature of the filament as is also the grid-voltage to grid-current group of curves.

The ability of small amounts of energy on the grid to control comparatively large amounts of energy in the plate circuit is an important property of the tube and the following diagram shows the action of the grid in controlling the plate current. In this diagram values of grid potential are laid off horizontally with the corresponding amounts of plate current plotted vertically.

Characteristic Curve of Vacuum Tube

From this curve it will be seen that if the grid has a comparatively high negative potential, a small decrease of this potential causes a large increase of the plate current; for example, when the grid voltage decreases from (A) to (B) the plate current increases from (C) to (D). If the grid voltage is increased negatively, however, by the same amount, the relative decrease of the plate current is much smaller. Therefore, if the grid voltage is adjusted to the value (A) it is apparent from the curve that any increase of the grid potential above the normal operating oscillations causes an increase in the plate current much larger in value than the decrease produced by an equal reduction of the grid voltage.

On the upper bend of the curve the reverse condition takes place, that is, if the potential of the grid is adjusted to a value (E) an increase in the grid voltage produces only a small increase in the plate current, while an equal decrease of the grid voltage produces a decrease in the plate current of a much larger value. If the grid potential, therefore, is adjusted to a value on either the upper or lower bend of the curve, the action of incoming oscillations upon the grid results in what amounts to a rectified current in the plate circuit, this current producing audible sounds in the receiving telephones.

Along the straight line portion of the curve, for example, at point (F) an equal increase or decrease of the grid voltage produces an equal increase and decrease of the plate current, which renders the tube a proper adjustment for amplification. In this manner, equal changes of plate current upon a second tube.

It is important to note therefore that when no grid condenser is employed in conjunction with the vacuum tube that rectification is occasioned either by an increase or decrease of the plate current, depending on whether this rectification takes place at the upper or lower bend of the grid voltage-plate current curve.

Amateur Radio Set Struck by Lightning

NEW YORK, July 14.—A fire, said to be the first ever recorded as due to an amateur radio set, was started at the height of a storm when a bolt of lightning struck apparatus placed near a window in a lower West Side apartment. The rubber insulation covering the aerial, from the arrester to the set, was completely burned off. The fire in the apartment was extinguished with slight damage.

Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith, professor of electrical engineering at the city college, and director of its radio laboratory, regarded the occurrence as "almost a phenomenon" and expressed the belief that a heavy bolt of lightning penetrated the porcelain-shelled arrester and struck the inside aerial. Another explanation offered by experts is that the ground wire which connected with a water pipe, was not properly adjusted.

Would Have Been in Grave Long Ago if Not for Fong Wan

For years I had stomach trouble with gas, which pressed on my heart with unbearable pain. I could not walk from one side of the table to the other without stopping to catch my breath. My stomach was so bloated that I could not eat nor lie down with comfort. My back ached fearfully and it seemed as though I continually carried a heavy load on it. My bowels never moved naturally and I suffered a great deal from constipation.

I consulted many doctors. They said that mine was a surgical case and that a tumor must be removed before I could get relief. I feared and dreaded an operation. My brother, John Linas, and his friend, Mr. M. Frazier, both of whom had been cured of stomach trouble by the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST, advised me to try him. My brother took me down to his place at the corner of 8th and Clay Sts., Oakland. I took the herbs for four months, cooking them myself. I am now strong and well and feel splendid.

Had not been for my brother's advice and FONG WAN'S skill, I should have been in my grave long ago.

Mrs. Julia Andrade, Box 13, Alvarado, Calif.

Notwithstanding the fact that her brother had been greatly benefited by the FONG WAN HERBS, Mrs. Julia Andrade had to be encouraged repeatedly to continue with the treatment. After having drunk the herbs but a few weeks, although she realized that her condition was somewhat improved, she was skeptical and feared that she would never get well. She might have discontinued altogether and never have regained her health had she not met Mrs. Cook in the FONG WAN OFFICE.

Mrs. Cook told Mrs. Andrade that she had suffered with a painful growth in her side, and that after she had taken the FONG WAN HERBS for three months, it had disappeared. She also told her that her brother, Mr. McCraw, had but one leg, and that this leg was so crippled that he was confined to his bed for nearly a year. The doctors said the only way to save him was to amputate his leg, but he would consent to have his foot amputated.

He tried an inexperienced Chinese Herbalist for 8 weeks but the shooting pain continued day and night. Then Mr. McCraw's young brother came home. He told him to quit that herbalist and try the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST. The most reliable on the Pacific Coast. After Mr. McCraw had drunk the first cup of Herb Tea prepared by FONG WAN, the pain grew less and he enjoyed the first night's sleep in months. He continued to take the treatment for about three months. His toe healed up completely and he grew strong and healthy.

Upon hearing about these marvelous cures Mrs. Andrade was much encouraged and she decided to stick to the treatment, with the result that she also was entirely healed.

COPY CATS

During the past ten years the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST has devoted all his leisure time to study and research. He has asserted all effective formulas contained in ancient Chinese volumes of Herbal lore and has learned the methods of China's most famous Herbalists. In addition to this, by making a careful study of each individual case, he has invented many formulas of his own by which he has adapted the herbs to the systems of American people. All these formulas have been written in his own hand writing in a book for ready reference of former employees who have been instructed from the ancient but also the original formulas which are the result of his painstaking research.

Since he has been in Oakland, the FONG WAN HERBALIST has employed more than a dozen men to work for him. Some of these employees, without either his knowledge or consent, have surreptitiously copied his book and later opened up herb businesses for themselves. Naturally, the FONG WAN FORMULAS bring quick and beneficial results and these so-called herbalists are unable to make cures. However, as soon as they strike an obstinate case or one that is a little different from the ordinary, no results are obtained as these herbalists are unable to modify the formulas to suit the individual case. FONG WAN has seen three different copies of his book in the possession of former employees who have been instructed from him. We do not print any testimonials from one who drinks one cup of herb tea today and gives a testimonial tomorrow. Those red hot testimonials were printed for the purpose to complete our authentic testimonials.

"Insane Stranger" Sought in Slaying

FRESNO, July 14.—Officials today were following up an "insane stranger" clew for the possible murderer of Alex Winter and Pauline Grass at Sanger.

A witness told the sheriff he had seen a man, apparently insane, kneeling in the road near where the bodies were found. While the attitude of the stranger was that of prayer, peculiarities of action led to belief that the man was mentally deficient.

Other leads have played out.

CHIEF WHITEWING 'WILL GO ON AIR' FOR KZM TONIGHT

Chief Whitewing, member of the Winnebago tribe, of Wisconsin, now playing as a member of the cast of "Rip Van Winkle's Dream" at the State Theater, will broadcast this unique program. The blood of Chief Whitewing is not tinted with that of the paleface, for his lot is that of a full-blood Winnebago.

From 8:15 to 8:30 tonight KZM will broadcast dance music for a party affair in Berkeley. Chief Whitewing will go on the air at 8:30 sharp.

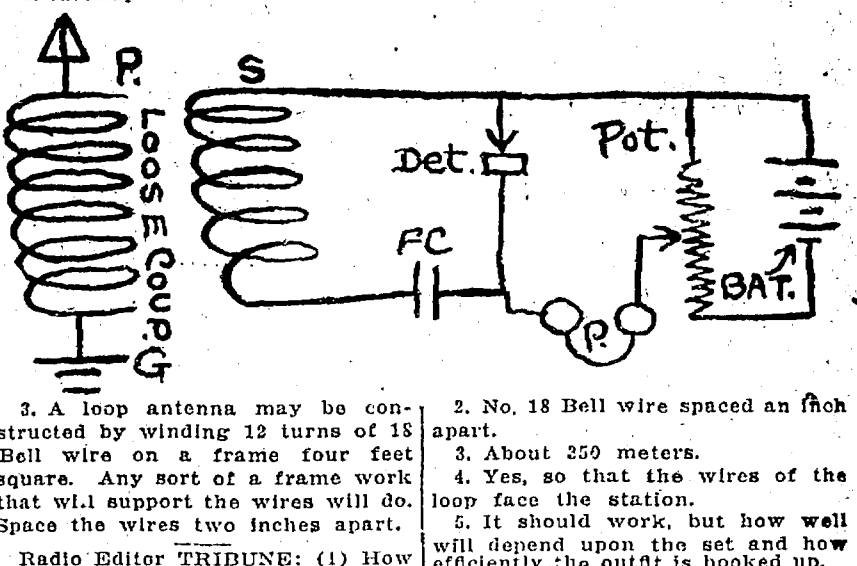

The program tomorrow between 3:30 and 4:30 holds much promise for music lovers. Mrs. Gladys Ginaca, coloratura, and George L. Bernhardt, baritone, two advanced pupils of Mme. Lydia Sturtevant, operate prima donna and vocal instructor of Berkeley, will give the program, accompanied by Mrs. Edlela Basford, well known pianist. Both Mrs. Ginaca and Bernhardt, although but students, have already gained the respect of critics. ## ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) Can many wires should the aerial shown in the enclosed diagram have? (2) What size wire? (3) What would be the natural wave length of such an aerial? (4) Would it have to be facing the station to get the maximum efficiency? (5) Would it work well with a short-wave regenerative set and a two-step audio frequency amplifier? MEMBERS OTRC NO. 342. 1. Ten turns.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) How

Cool, dainty dishes, wholesome as well as delightful to the palate, should be the rule in every household during these warm summer months. Heavy, expensive desserts have no place on the properly balanced menu at this time of year.

A wide variety of delicious desserts, made without standing over a hot kitchen stove, is always possible to the wise housewife who keeps her icebox well filled with ice.

Here is a simple recipe for plain ice cream:

One quart of thin cream, one cup of sugar, one tablespoon vanilla. The cream should not be too thick, or it may form fine particles of butter while being stirred. Scald the cream and add sugar. When cool, add flavoring and freeze. Pack and let ripen for an hour or more.

A rather unusual variation, which will be a pleasant novelty to most people, is made as follows:

Get a small jar, about half a pint, of Chinese ginger, and cut into small pieces. Make plain ice cream, as noted above, but when it begins to thicken, and before it is frozen too hard, add the chopped ginger, and continue the freezing process.

Here is another simple variation, that will appeal to almost everyone. It is known as Bisque Ice Cream:

Start to make plain ice cream, but just before freezing add cup and a half of macaroon crumbs, rolled very fine.

Still another novelty, that will be a treat to everyone who likes peppermint flavor, is made this way:

Take half a pound of peppermint candy, break it up and soak over night in a pint of milk. When it is thoroughly dissolved, add half a pint of cream. Then proceed as in making plain ice cream, except that no sugar is used.

A frozen pudding that will be found delightful is made as follows:

Shred one and a half cups of candied fruit and soak in orange juice for an hour. Make plain ice cream, add the shredded fruit when it begins to thicken, and finish freezing. Pack and let stand an hour or more.

To have plenty of dainty desserts such as these is only one of the advantages of keeping plenty of ice in the home always. In addition to its convenience, ice is a necessity in hot weather and a real economy every day in the year. It prevents the spoiling of foods, keeps food bills down, and safeguards health. A regular supply of ice will pay for itself in the food it saves.

19 CHILDREN WILL START ON OUTING TRIP TOMORROW

"Pleasure Unlimited" Will Carry Happy Group to Summer Camp.

All aboard for the Oakland Recreation Camp! They are off tomorrow at 8:30 a. m. Nineteen youngsters who have been awarded vacations by the Associated Charities through the generosity of unknown friends will hurry to First and Broadway and half an hour later wave their joyful good-byes to trouble and care and limited appetites. For two glorious weeks they will have forests to roam through, swimming holes to play in, skies stars, fun and three square meals a day. The men, the women and the children who have pooled their gifts to finance the outing for this unit of Associated Charities' boys, must find their reward in the child's laugh, the returning color to pallid cheeks, the dreams come true in the boy's soul. The boys will be equipped with simple wardrobes, blankets borrowed from the Municipal Woodyard and bathing suits assembled through appeal from THE TRIBUNE.

When the lads who needed the outing most were finally selected several of them were found over the 12 year age. This meant that their vacation costs would be increased from $15.65 to $23.25. However, the small boys who made strong appeals to sympathy when their childish trials were told in the Oakland TRIBUNE, have not been included in Saturday's party. There is Tom, Jack, Tim, Bobbie and the Skinnys—all waiting for train time. Of course there are other little fellows hoping to go abroad at the last minute through the offices of some royal friend—

POLITICAL NOTES

Judge Frank H. Kerrigan, candidate for associate justice of the supreme court, is now in San Diego in the interest of his campaign. Accompanied by Assemblyman W. B. Hornblower he will visit practically every city in the southern part of the state before returning here the latter part of next month. Kerrigan clubs have been organized in Paso Robles and Santa Maria. In Santa Maria, Fred A. Schaefer heads a committee of one hundred who are campaigning for Judge Kerrigan.

Former Congressman William Kent today issued a statement endorsing the candidacy of Charles C. Moore for the Republican nomination for United States Senator. Kent refers to the qualifications of Moore, and asserts that "he will not involve himself in discreditable alliances for the purposes of self-advancing."

FIFTH WRECK VICTIM DIES. KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 14.—James G. Moses of Kansas City, Mo., engineer of the Missouri Pacific fast passenger train which collided head-on with a local freight in the outskirts of Kansas City last night, died last night of his injuries, making the fifth victim of the wreck.

MAN DROWNS IN TAR. FOLKSTONE, Eng.—Death by drowning in a vat of liquid tar was the fate of George A. Finn, a municipal inspector, who lost his footing.

With the departure of the week's unit, fifty charges of the Associated Charities will have been given a two weeks' outing in the municipal vacation ground on the Tulumene river through gifts of men, women and children of the city. Next week arrangements will be made to send a unit of small girls to the mountain camp.

Poland Signs Nine Trade Agreements

WARSAW, July 14.—The Polish foreign office in publishing the ratification of the Franco-Polish commercial treaty, announces that Poland has now signed trade agreements with nine other signatories: Italy, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Hungary, Austria, Mexico, Spain, Portugal, and Yugoslavia, and is making negotiations for similar treaties with England, Japan, Switzerland, Sweden and Norway. Pourparlers with Germany and Russia also have commenced. While no formal treaty has been made between Poland and the United States, an agreement has already been reached.

Then at last the Imperial City sank into state of utter neglect and despair.—The Story of Mankind.

San Jose Elopers Sought in Oakland

The police have been requested to conduct a search for Harry Bischoff, 21, and his bride of 15, formerly Miss A. A. Thiele. The pair eloped from their San Jose homes and were married in Redwood City. Directly after the ceremony they dropped from sight. The Thiele home is at 311 West Second street, San Jose.

Man With $1500 On Person Missing

Search is being made in this city for Arthur L. Roberts, who left Cashe, Ill., last April to visit his mother, Mrs. M. E. Benjamin, of 1041 East Twenty-second street, in this city. Mrs. Benjamin said the police that he had $1500 in cash on his person when he left and she fears foul play.

Why They Called Him Speedy.

Bert Swor, the minstrel man, is something more than a mere black-faced comedian. He was born and reared in a Texas town, and he probably knows as much about the true interpretation and, what is more, the true delineation of certain negro types as any living man. He knows what most Northern-born men do not, that the essence of the Southern negro's humor, usually is based on a gorgeous hyperbole, a natural instinct for exaggerated comparisons. Much of the material out of which he coins his laughs on the stage is based upon things he heard or saw when a boy down in Texas.

One of his most popular wheezes is a faithful rendition of something which a colored man at Fort Worth said years ago. Two negroes were talking together. As Swor passed by he gathered that the subject under discussion was the relative fleetness of foot of the pair. As he came within earshot one of them said:

"You claims you is fast! You says you's so fast folks calls you speedy! Jest how fast is you, nigger?"

"I'll tell you how fast I is," said the other. "De room whar I sleeps nights is got jest one 'lectric light in it, which dat 'lectric light is forty feet from de baid. W'en I gits undressed I kin walk over to dat 'lectric light and turn it out and git back into baid and be all covered up befo' de room gits dark."

Uncle Wiggily Stories by HOWARD R. GABER

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE PAPA ROBIN.

"HARK!" suddenly exclaimed Uncle Wiggily one day, as he sat on the porch of his hollow stump bungalow. Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy sat near him, mending holes in the bunny gentleman's shirt. "What's that noise?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Dear me! I hope you don't hear a noise like the chime-bell, or the Fuzzy Fox trying to break through the back screen door!" exclaimed the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"No, it isn't a sound like either of those," said the bunny uncle. "Hark! Listen to it!"

Nurse Jane heard a sort of "yip-pity-yip" sound, many times repeated, over and over again.

"Why, that's a robin bird calling," said Nurse Jane. "I've heard it two or three times this morning. It is only a robin."

"Yes, but it isn't the glad, happy cheer-up song of the robin," answered Uncle Wiggily. "It is the call of a robin, truly enough, but it is the sad or danger cry, of the bird. I must see what's the matter!"

Down off his porch hopped the bunny gentleman. The "yip-yip-pity-yip" sound kept up and Uncle Wiggily soon saw a large robin redbreast gentleman perched on the topmost branch of a tree, calling as loudly as he could call.

"Hello, Papa Robin!" cried the rabbit uncle, for it was Mr. Robin who was making such a fuss. "What's the trouble up there?"

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, have you seen my wife?" asked the Papa Robin. "She hasn't been home all night, and I'm so worried! The little birds need some bugs and worms, and they are cold, and want to be cuddled under warm wings. I can't do both. Oh, have you seen my wife?"

"No, I haven't seen Mother Robin, not since yesterday afternoon," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I was digging in my garden and I turned up some worms which I gave her for the little birds. What has happened?"

"That's what I don't know," said the Papa Robin. "I've been waiting all night, and I've called all morning, but my mate doesn't answer. Oh, I'm so afraid some hunter may have shot her with a gun, or that some bad pussy, not like Tommie, Jole or Kitten Kat, but some bad cat may have caught her."

"Oh, let us hope not," said Uncle Wiggily. "Perhaps she stayed in some other robin lady's nest all night."

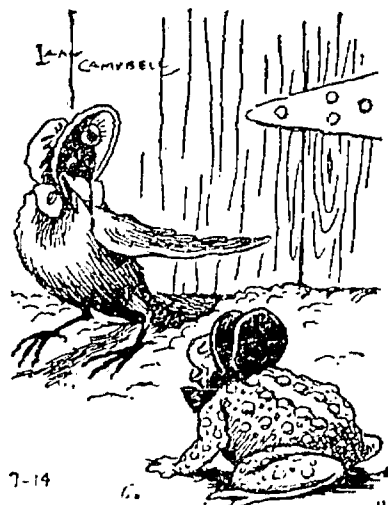

"She never would do that, with our little birds needing food," said the Papa Robin. "I just know something dreadful has happened to her. I'll call again." He did so, louder than before, but Mother Robin did not answer.

SMILES

"What!" said the indignant old gentleman, "you want to marry my daughter? Why, it was only a few years ago that you were caddy-fing for me." "Yes, sir," the young man replied, "but I don't intend to let that stand in the way. I hope I have sense enough to realize that a very bad golfer may make a fairly good father-in-law."

"Do you ever make mistakes?" "Oh, yes," said the druggist. "We make mistakes occasionally. One of our customers thought he was buying extract the other day, but a clerk gave him horse liniment instead. He drank it, too." "Any complaint?" "No complaint. Several of his neighbors came in the next morning with prescriptions from a veterinarian."

After slogging about over his tea, the youth suddenly blurted out: "Can I go out tonight, mother, to see my lass?" "Yes," said his mother, grudgingly, "but come back in half an hour." At the expiration of that time the youth returned. "And did you see your sweetheart?" asked his mother. "Yes, mother, and she would have seen me, too, if I hadn't bobbed down behind the hedge."

"Oh, I'm so glad to be free!" she cried.

answer, nor did she fly to her nest in the maple tree, and her little birds, as well as the Papa Robin, were sad and lonely for her.

"I'll help find her," said Uncle Wiggily. "I may not be able to fly, but sometimes, when birds are hurt, they can't fly, either, and must stay on the ground. I'll see if I can find Mother Robin."

"Oh, thank you!" chirruped the Papa Robin. "You are so lucky that I'm sure you will find her, Uncle Wiggily."

Away hopped the bunny, looking and calling as well as he could for the lost Mother Robin. Of course Uncle Wiggily couldn't sing like a bird, but he did the best he was able to do.

At last a little hooted lady, who was on her way home from the eleven and twelve cent store, called to the bunny, saying: "I think I know where Mother Robin is. A little while ago I passed the rocky den of the Bob Cat. He was sitting outside his door smiling and growling to himself. 'If I can't get Uncle Wiggily's ears,' said the Bob Cat, 'I can catch birds, and I have a bird now!' That's what I heard the Bob Cat say," spoke the hooted lady.

"Oh, I'm sure the Bob Cat has caught Mother Robin and has her shut up in his den," said Uncle Wiggily. "Will you help me get her out, Mrs. Toad?" The toad lady said she would, and she and the bunny went softly through the woods until they reached the den of the Bob Cat. There he sat outside his closed door.

"This is what we'll do," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll hop past him and he'll chase me. My rheumatism doesn't pain me this morning, and I'm sure I can run faster than the Bob Cat. Then, when he's away from his door, chasing me, you open it and let out Mother Robin."

"Good!" croaked the hooted lady. "Only I'm too little to open the big door. But I can scratch and dig a hole in the dirt under it, and the robin can crawl out that way."

"Good!" whispered Uncle Wiggily. He ran past the Bob Cat's den crying: "You can't catch me!"

"Oh, ho! I'll nibble your ears!" screamed the Bob Cat. Away from his door he ran, trying to catch the bunny, but the rabbit hopped so fast as never was, and the bad chap couldn't get Uncle Wiggily, who dodged in and out among the bushes.

And as soon as the Bob Cat was away from in front of his door, the hooted lady scratched and dug a hole beneath it, and the Mother Robin hopped out. "Oh, I'm so glad to be free," she cried, as she flew back to the Papa Robin and her little birds.

"The bad Bob Cat scattered flew down to pick them up. Then crumbs in front of his den yesterday, and I, thinking no harm, he closed the door and I couldn't get out. Thank you for saving me, Uncle Wiggily, and you too, Mrs. Toad."

And you can imagine how happy Papa Robin was, and the little birds also. The Papa Robin sang his happy song, with no more yip-yipping.

WATER, POWER ACT IS DECLARED BIG TAX BURDEN

William A. D'Egillbert Points
Out Dangers of Proposed Enactment.

William A. D'Egillbert, rice planter of Willows, appeared last night before the Business and Professional Women's Club at Oakland in vigorous opposition to the proposed water and power act. In part D'Egillbert spoke as follows:

"If I read this water and power act right no irrigation district could get a distributing system built for it by the state unless it bought its water from the state and let a board of five men in Sacramento run the irrigation affairs. The act says that title to such distributing systems shall vest in the state until they are paid for. Chairman of the act may tell us that isn't so, but I'm judging by what I read in the measure itself. The water and power board isn't likely to resign any of its authority—that is, the way with public officials, but that doesn't mean that they are paid by the corporations. The tax is shifted, almost automatically, and the burden soon reaches the individual taxpayer.

"Every time the proposal is made to establish another state commission we are told that it is going to save the people's money. Several of our state commissions have been in operation for ten years or more, and all this time the cost of state government in California has steadily mounted. Taxes for that particular purpose are now collected from the corporations, but that doesn't mean that they are paid by the corporations. The tax is shifted, almost automatically, and the burden soon reaches the individual taxpayer.

"No matter how you look at the water and power act, no matter what claims are made for it, the scheme it proposes cannot even be attempted without increasing taxes. If we bond the state for five hundred million dollars, as we are asked to do, to put it into the hands of furnishing water and power, we go into debt for that amount."

Alameda Prowlers Steal Old Chapeaux

Plans Made for Women's Clubhouse

BERKELEY, July 14.—Definite plans toward securing a Faculty Women's club house on the university of California campus were taken this morning at meeting of an executive committee of college instructors which has been discussing the project for some months.

On the committee are Miss Alice A. P. Taber of the German department; Mrs. Barbara N. Grimes, social economics; Mrs. K. N. Bishop, anatomy; and Miss Nella T. Martin, library.

The location for the building, pronounced by Miss Lucy Stebbins, dean of women, to be one of the most beautiful sites on the campus, is in the eastern end of Faculty grounds above the site of the men's Faculty club.

SAN LEANDRO

C. of C. Directors
Endorse Bay Bridge

SAN LEANDRO, July 14.—A resolution endorsing the bridging of the bay project was prepared at a meeting of the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce board of directors held last night. Following a discussion of the question among the members, it was decided that this city would stand firmly behind any such movement. No preference of local mention was mentioned in the resolution.

A communication was ordered sent to the Oakland board of education expressing this city's appreciation for the promise of a junior high school here.

The emergence of the Southern and Central Pacific lines, a resolution to have been prepared expressing this city's stand, was decided too complicated a question on which to take definite stand, without further enlightenment. The Eden Township Farm Products Show, with the part San Leandro would play, was discussed and action deferred.

continue future activities in this city. The recent unemployment situation here, together with the many demands on the Red Cross for money, clothing and other necessities, completely swept away the fund on hand maintained for such emergencies.

Mrs. B. F. Mason, president of the Red Cross, has been chosen as chairman of the whist committee.

San Leandro, July 14.—The city plaza tonight will mark the successful culmination of several months' effort by merchants of this city to re-establish the former annual festival. The concert, under the direction of Prof. John Musso, will consist of 22 pieces. Concerts, each from two to three hours in length, will be held each Friday night.

The city plaza is in readiness for the initial affair. Strings of lights have been strung along the plaza.

"CLEAN-UP" OVER.—The "clean-up" campaign in the Brown moor district of San Leandro, begun under the direction of Marshal J. P. Peralta, received its finishing touches today, when a force of men at work cleaning old lots, cutting or turning under grass and weeds, mending portions of the broken sidewalks, and other work completed. Subsequent investigation by Peralta proved the vacant portions of the district to be in decidedly better condition.

Class Members Attend to All Details.

BERKELEY, July 14.—Students of the pageantry and dancing classes of the University of California Summer Session today began rehearsing for the presentation of Tennyson's "Day Dream" in pageant form in the Greek theater, Tuesday evening, August 1. They are being directed by Miss Mary E. Shafter, 1720 Euclid avenue, instructor in the summer session course.

The students have been required to attend to practically all the details of preparing the pageant, including selection of the story, choosing of the cast, training the dancers, making the costumes and dyeing the materials.

Miss Shafter formerly studied under Chas. Maurice, Madame Allert and Yvette Guilbert.

GRANDMA WHO WOULD "FLAP" IRES TEACHER

BERKELEY, July 14.—Now it's the grandmothers who would take off a span of years, who are getting it?

The "grandmother flapper" is the worst of them all is the expert opinion of John H. Sweeney, superintendent of schools at Red Bluff, who takes time from his studies at the University of California summer session to say a word in the controversy over girls now raging on the college campus.

"This true," says Sweeney, "we must admit much frivolity on the part of too many young people. But it is not always the cool who have behind tortoiseshell glasses, bob hair, toes the lipstick and wears abridged clothing. There are grandmothers in this golden state whom one has a hard time to distinguish from the granddaughters because of these."

Sweeney's views are upheld by Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism at the University of Oregon and editor of the "Summer Session Californian," in which the Red Bluff educator's conclusions were printed.

Work on Beach
Park Progressing

SAN LEANDRO, July 14.—With the final bit of beach land obtained, and the granting of a charter, immediately the resumed the proposed "Garden of Eden" beach at the foot of Davis street, San Leandro. The San Leandro beach company, composed of local and outside business men, is promoting the construction.

Formerly announced plans promised the preliminary construction of bathhouses, numerous concessions and a scenic railway to be completed late in June and early July. A large force of men had been placed at work on the beach site, leveling and hauling the sand, and marking off the land prior to the building. Complications, involving the clear title to a portion of the land, arose, temporarily suspending operations. The matter has been satisfactorily arranged, according to directors of the affair, resulting in the immediate resumption of building. Plans have already been prepared for the entire beach, and have been placed prominently about the city.

Consistent Work Advised for All By Alamedan, 100

ALAMEDA, July 14.—Longevity can be realized by steady and consistent work and "is not anything wonderful" in the opinion of Mrs. Ann Muldowney, 421 Central avenue, who recently celebrated her one-hundredth birthday.

Mrs. Muldowney's memory has not dimmed with years and as she sat crocheting in her home yesterday, she recalled with but little effort events which made history.

Born in Ireland near Dublin, where her father was employed as a bookkeeper, Mrs. Muldowney came to the United States when eight years old. Maryanne, she moved west with her husband to Wisconsin, where Muldowney was the agent of the first station in Milwaukee.

It was in Portage, Wis., that Mrs. Muldowney caught her first glimpse of Abraham Lincoln, who was at the time conducting his campaign for president. Prior to the Civil war Mr. and Mrs. Muldowney moved to New Orleans where they narrowly escaped death during a violent plague, which took a toll of hundreds of lives.

Virtually behind the scenes and a Northerner at heart, Mrs. Muldowney was an eye witness to much of the preparation by the Confederates for the Civil war. Her two brothers were drafted in New York.

Movies Lure Wife; Spouse Wins Decree

Because she preferred a career as a movie actress to that of mother and housewife, Mrs. Ruth C. Poole, a former resident of Berkeley and now of Los Angeles, has been divorced by order of Superior Judge T. W. Harris. The involuntary decree was granted to the husband, Frank L. Poole.

The couple were married at Medford, Ore., in 1913, and separated two years ago. Poole filed action for divorce two months ago, upon grounds of desertion. Although Mrs. Poole did not contest the action the custody of two children was given jointly to the father and mother.

THE TIME TO JOIN.

Most encouraging in the Chamber of Commerce Onward Oakland campaign is the new blood entering into community work. The teams in the field report the happy condition that, at last, no business considers itself too small to take its part in advancing the city. The single memberships coming in will make the chamber more representative of the whole city and will bring into the ranks of its membership new ideas and new vigor.

That this is the time for concerted efforts to make the most of Oakland's development and opportunities is sensed everywhere today. The volunteers who are working in the campaign find on all sides the evidences of a new civic spirit and the realization of great growth and astounding industrial progress for Oakland. In no other campaign has such a spirit and such a firm and optimistic assurance been met.

The Onward Oakland movement will be as representative as the citizens of Oakland care to make it. Each new member increases the new force working for the city's good. The rolls are open; the teams are in the field. Men in the smallest stores and those in the largest factories may do their part and are doing it. The way for Oakland to attain its rightful place, to let the world know of the expansion here today, and to assume importance as a metropolitan city and industrial center of the first rank lies in the co-operative spirit of the men and women who are here.

This is the time to join the Onward Oakland movement, an opportunity and a privilege.

THE NEW OAKLAND.

If there is any man or woman in all of the Eastbay who does not sense the magnitude of the awakening and forward movement now under way his must be an ear which cannot hear the triphammer and an eye which cannot discern a changing skyline. There is nothing of the nature of vague promise, half-made plans, or well meant and unsubstantial prophecy in the proof of Oakland's present record growth. A story written in skyscrapers, factories, building permits, clearances, and homes is as convincing as it is legible.

In the month of June the city broke all records in building permits totaling $2,381,045 or $50,000 more than San Francisco. July is continuing the story and, on the basis of the first six months of the year, there will be expended on new construction during 1922 more than $20,000,000. Four buildings above fifteen stories in height will thrust imposing forms into the changing skyline. More than $7,500,000 is being spent on downtown improvements.

And so it is in all of the Eastbay where factories, homes, and business blocks are being started each day. The citizen should become familiar with the story and talk it. He should know, for instance, that the manufacturing here turn out more than 1,200 different articles, that 90 per cent of all the large industries which conducted surveys before establishing plants on the Coast, chose the Eastbay, that this section is the automobile and tire center of the Pacific, that all the Mazda lamps used west of Denver, a million a month, are made here and that this community has gained more in percentage of increase in manufactured products, increase in capital invested, and increase in horsepower installed than has any other city.

It is not only pleasant to talk Oakland and the Eastbay today, it is a duty. Each citizen should do his utmost toward educating the whole community in the inspirational story of what is being done right here. Unless he joins in the Onward Oakland movement of the Chamber of Commerce he will be left at the post while the city strides away from him.

With approximately $53,500,000 available for construction of public roads for the year, California stands at the head of all states in appropriations for this purpose and represents an increase over appropriations from all sources during the preceding year of $15,000,000. A million and a half of this amount is Federal aid authorized under the Post Office Appropriation Act. Oregon with $20,500,000; Washington with $18,500,000, and Idaho with $12,500,000 follow closest on California's lead.

THE PROBATION INQUIRY.

In all cases where the question of granting probation to offenders has resulted in criticism the attack has not been directed on the law but the manner of its administration. Records show that probation given to first offenders in a large majority of instances has rescued for society men who would otherwise be sent to congested with more hardened criminals in the reform schools and prisons. These men given probation have made good. This is especially true in the cases of youths.

It is when a man has committed an unspeakable crime and is allowed his liberty, when one who has repeatedly been in trouble is turned loose to offend again, that a legitimate outcry is made. How many men of this kind there are in this county may be determined by the grand jury when it finishes an investigation started this week.

The grand jury should take care not to urge action which would undo the good of the probation system in order to correct the evils. If men who are dangerous to society are being turned back to prey upon it, if the probation system as operated stands as an assurance to the youthful criminal, and others, that he will escape adequate punishment the ways of correction should be found.

Entering into the question is an unusual situation which would seem to work a direct benefit to the criminal. The Alameda county Probation Officer has charged prison wardens are appealing that as few men as possible be sent to their keeping and crowded conditions in the institutions is responsible for an argument toward leniency.

The cost to the state of more cells would be less than that of criminal acts of men turned free for no other reason than a lack of space in prison. When it is made apparent that for certain crimes and second offenses of others there can be no probation there will be fewer offenders.

"MOTHER OF TONOPAH"

When Mrs. James L. Butler died at Sacramento not long ago none but the old-time mining men of the West recognized in the name "The Mother of Tonopah." According to the books, her husband discovered the Mizpah ledge and put Nevada back on the map as a mining state. Tradition, the story of the camp and fields, has it that Mrs. Butler was the one to whom the credit belongs.

In 1901 the Butlers set out from their ranch in western Nevada for what was called the Klondike district of Nye county. Five miles north of Tonopah they discovered they were lost and, with a feeling that failure was certain, camped beside their buckboard. In the morning the burros which had pulled their outfit were gone. For five days man and wife looked for the obstinate and exasperating animals.

Exhausted and discouraged Mrs. Butler sat down on a hill now known as Mount Oddie but the miner in her was stronger than the woman. She picked up a piece of loose rock, examined it, and found it rich with virgin silver. That is where luck changed. The husband came back with the burros, a claim was staked and the Mizpah came into existence.

It was Butler who sank the shaft and who paid for the assays by deeding away a twelfth interest. He made a fortune as did the man who had the twelfth part of the mine. "Mother" Butler was known from one end of the mining country to the other and her story will be told for years to come. It is a story of enterprise, of the pulling up of home stakes for a journey into doubtful and hazardous adventure and one of a reward which brought happiness and wealth to hundreds of persons.

But a little more than two weeks remains for the voters of Alameda county to register for the August primaries. The final registration day is July 20 and election day just one month later. Important measures will be on the ballot, candidates for gubernatorial and senatorial nomination are to be voted upon and there are congressional and state contests to be settled. Despite unusual efforts to register every man and woman who is eligible the normal total has not been reached and this can only mean a large part of the electorate is ignorant of the fact that registrations prior to January 1 of this year are void, or there is a growing carelessness in assuming the responsibilities which go with good citizenship.

When a man steals a half million in bonds, several millions by corrupt practice, or walks off with a fortune, by using the mails to defraud there is a great hue and cry. A group may steal an election one year and repeat the crime on the next occasion. This is the conclusion reached in Chicago where an investigation has shown pollution of the ballot boxes through false returns, tallies made out without the slightest reference to number of votes in the boxes, and unscrupulous officials in charge of the polling places. The revelations have been so astounding as to arouse indignation and a determination to apply safeguards and remedies.

In the south a member of a city planning commission is charged with burglary. Men of his profession frequently have designs on a city.

Salut.

We who have sorrowed o'er his loss
And draped in crape our drooping forms;
We, who have withered in our grief
Like tender flowers in wintry storms.
Now close the floodgates of our tears
And yield ourselves to joy and mirth.
He, whom we thought in heavenly scenes,
Has now returned to earth.
His is the loss—the gain is ours.
This mundane sphere he still must tread.
Contribs, give thanks to all the powers
He ain't near dead.
—Clementina Montgomery.

After reading the above we are able to receive, quite distinctly, the impression someone is trying to kid us. When the contribs gather to give thanks for the cause mentioned we would ask the opportunity to have a motion picture man present.

Well-Informed Woman.

Under the Wall street quotations of a San Francisco paper appears the line: "The following quotations are from the private wife of & Co."

Why do not they do something about censoring the divorce suits?

And, Oh, perhaps, you've never been Far out upon a lake.
And paused a while with lazy smile
A good old smoke to take.

Then you have never known the pain
The blister and the scratch,
Fate drags and binds the man who finds Himself without a match.

Unfettered Lodge, Diminishing Order of Pedestrians, has received with interest the report of Dr. R. Kendrick Smith of Los Angeles, in which the prediction is made that walking will become a lost art.

With few, walking remains an art today. It is one of those necessary things which may be done in any manner, no matter how slipshod, so long as it takes us from house to street car, or from back porch to garage. There are those who dress with attention to color and abbreviation of attire and announce themselves hikers, but they are not the ones who guard the vanishing art of walking. Rather they are the experts in seeking the spot for the picnic lunch. The hiker who wears high heels and removes the spots from his or her khaki breaks is no artistic walker.

To walk right one must swing his legs unconsciously to the rhythm of his thoughts. He must breathe deep of air and color and love the earth. He is piled in mountain range or plattered on his puttees. There is, of course, an art in walking, and it is not going to vanish so long as there are golf links and fishing grounds and pushcarts on the face of the earth.

Man in Chicago named Hand has been sued for divorce for spanking his wife.

He Is Not the Only One.

The Nature Club.

(Altoona Tribune.)

We were certainly ashamed of Mace Liverwurst at a vaudeville show in Noodeshia the night of the Fourth. He was seated about half way down the aisle and acted decent enough except when the dancing girls came out on the stage dressed in lights. Then he would stand up. When the male performers came out there and there about still, but just as soon as the girls came out he would stand up and spoil the view of those behind him. We were seated directly behind the old reprobate and we didn't see hardly any of the show. When we left Noodeshia at 11:30 that night Mace had a crowd around him at the corner Fifth and Main and was telling them about catching a mermaid on a hook and line out of the Wabash river in Vigo county, Indiana. Mrs. Liverwurst was telling us this morning that she spent the Fourth at home and did two big washings and ironings on that day.

On Filling the Column.
And now mine own, I park my stylus
In the rack and light my pipe;
No rhymes to find, no puns beguile us
Naught but contentment over-
-floweth.

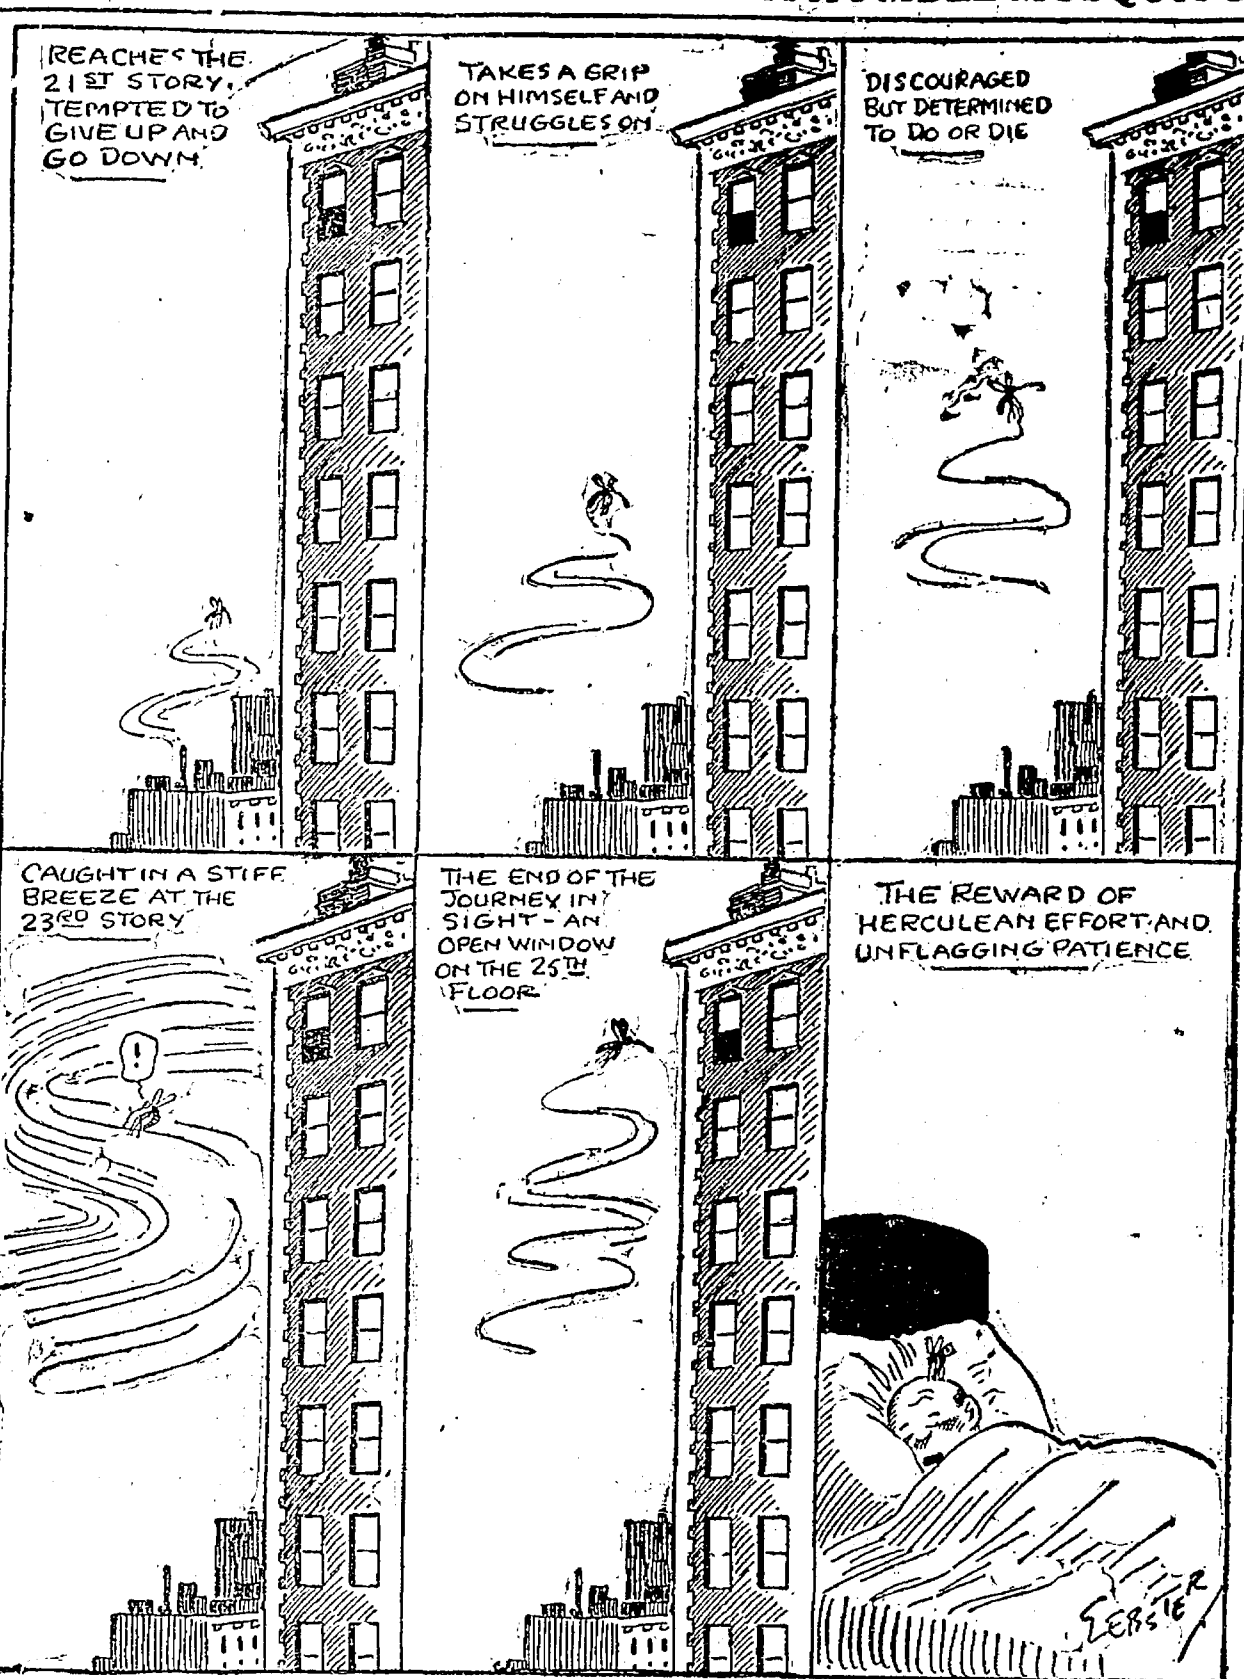

And yet release from ink and type,
'Tis a long cruise and small the crew—
The cargo? Well, 'tis fish or tripe.
And we are near the harbor now.

What's that? A strait is still before us!
All hands on deck and furl a sail.
To fill we needs must add a chorus;
We're off, 'tis too late now to fail.

Line by line with gait of snail,
The wharf is here, the moment solemn,
The anchor drops beside the rail;
These lines, I think, will fill the column.

A LESSON IN PERSEVERANCE BY A HUMBLE MOSQUITO

NOTES and COMMENT

The Palo Alto Times on show window ethics: "Some merchants have a fixed policy against allowing advertising posters to be placed in their show windows. Others apparently have as fixed a policy against ever discarding them when once they are put up for display. As a result, when one walks about the downtown district he is greeted here and there by placards announcing the glories of a Fourth of July celebration that is receding well into the past, and by still more antique news about concerts, lectures and amusement affairs announced as 'coming' when as a matter of fact they have come and gone long ago."

Brooklyn Eagle on Georgia's gubernatorial predilection: "Georgia had a governor in Hugh Dorsey who had the courage and the common sense to demand equal legal protection for blacks and whites and to antagonize lynching. To her disgrace Georgia retired Dorsey and took a man who was a lobbyist for the lynchers. She stands, then, as a state where the majority sentiment supports mob murders."

The Boston Transcript thinks he would have been stumped: "On his recent visit home President Harding wrote an editorial for his paper, the Marion Star, without any particular difficulty, but the chances are that if he had been asked to report a ball game or get up the society column he couldn't have done it."

Says the Oregonian: "Governor Cox is to make an active race for the Democratic nomination for president in 1924. Since Mr. Bryan led the modest, every day Democratic candidate seems to consider it his duty to step up and take a second licking."

The Medford Mail-Tribune is of opinion that invocation will not fetch rain at once: "Farmers have started praying for rain for July, and will get the bill of lading in October. No event that will cause a shower is scheduled, except the county fair, before then."

He still gets editorial mention. This from the New York Herald: "Babe Ruth appears to have given up irritating umpires in favor of knocking baseballs out of shape. It is a diversion of energy which his complete approval of the public."

According to the Washington Post, baseball is the national sport because it gives every American an opportunity to tell the players what to do.

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE WAYS OF EASE.
Pleasure builds no lasting fame,
Youth, remember as you go,
Luxuries are sweet to claim,
But they vanish with a blow.

Rest a little, as you must,
But beware the idler's fate;
Till a friend that you can trust,
Rest will never make you great.

Not along the easy ways
Pride and joy of conquest grow,
Laziness has no word of praise
Or a medal to bestow.

Youth, beware the easy place,
Shun the charm of leisure's lure,
Meet life's hardships face to face
For the glories which endure.

Soft of hand and dull of brain
They become who dwell at ease;
'Tis by toiling, might and main,
Man must earn his victories.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

A ship canal from Lake Merritt westerly to San Francisco Bay is the original idea advanced by Morton Lindley, a Fruitvale capitalist.

More than 200 Oakland Elks went to San Francisco Saturday night to help dedicate the new clubrooms at 233 Sutter street.

William Barry, county horticultural commissioner, recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his arrival in Alameda county.

SHAW PULLS OLD STUFF.

There is a story told of George Bernard Shaw that when someone in the audience hissed at him, he said to the offender, "I perfectly agree with you, sir, but what are two against so many?"

Witty enough that, but not entirely original. In 1471, John Brown was invited to become pastor of church at Hingham. There was one man opposed to his appointment who said "hat he liked Mr. Brown's pen, a manner but disapproved of his preaching. "Then," said Mr. Brown, "we are agreed. I do not like my preaching very well myself, but how great a folly it is for you and me to set up our opinion against that of the whole parish."

NOT TO CONSOLIDATE.

To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE:
Oakland TRIBUNE: We note with interest the article appearing in SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE, regarding the possibility of the consolidation of our club with the 100% Club.

It is the belief of our board of directors that some of the information in this article is unintentionally misleading.

The 100% Club made a tentative offer of consolidation with our league. The matter was fully discussed by our committees and by our board of directors and definitively and finally rejected.

It is the purpose of the Business Development League to change its policies so that any selfish purpose will be entirely eliminated, and our efforts put forth for the community's good.

We purpose to abandon the classification limitations, and to take into our organization representatives of all employers' trades and professional men for the purpose of establishing and maintaining at all times that unity of community spirit that is necessary to successful development.

Our membership at the present time amounts to 104, fully paid participating members. Your article read 65.

Our organization has definitely gone on record as being opposed to existing for a selfish purpose, such as any obligation written or understood that would require a reciprocity of business as between members. It has been the finding of fact that an organization built on selfishness cannot succeed. For this reason it will be impossible for us to consolidate with any of the luncheon clubs who are organized as we were originally, and it is for this purpose that we are reorganizing.

Yours very truly,
L. C. FRASER, President.

QUOTING THE FAMOUS.

To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE:

Your news despatch from Chicago carries the denial of Rev. Mr. Milner that Abraham Lincoln made the statement against prohibition that is imputed to him. Rev. Mr. Milner is correct. A careful search of the authentic record of Lincoln has failed to reveal a positive declaration for or against prohibition.

But in delivering his denial, Mr. Milner himself joins company with the "fact" of "Susanna and the Elders," for he presents to the claim that "the immortal Lincoln ever lent even a hint of approval of the liquor traffic."

Now it is indisputable history that Lincoln in his early life, turning to every honest means to earn a living, became a disbeliever of whiskey. Having accumulated more than the local market could absorb, he traded half of his stock for tobacco, and loaded the rest of it and the tobacco on a flatboat and took it to New Orleans to find a market. That was his experience as a flatboatman, which figured largely in the politics of the Middle West from 1828 to 1860.

It is a frequent practice for the protagonists of various modern cults and reforms to explore the past for endorsement by the worthies of an age gone by. So I have heard Washington brought out an argument for prohibition. The fact is that he had on his Mount Vernon estate the largest whisky distillery in the United States, and he attended to its operation and the marketing of the whisky with the same care that he put into all his business operations. The product of his distillery was to be had in Washington city as late as 1830.

Jefferson made wine on his Monticello estate and the vintage there continued into recent years. It was a pleasant wine of the Concord type.

Other dignified names might be used in the same connection, notably that of Gen. James Wolfe of the English army in France at the crisis and conclusion of the World War, who is one of the owners of the distillery of the Haig & Haig Scotch whisky.

The conclusion from all this is that the laws must stand or fall by their own merits and the respect they are able to inspire in public opinion, and not by endorsement or rejection by the dead.

JNO. P. IRISH.

TO HASTEN JUSTICE.

To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE:

Please accept my sincere gratitude for your recent editorial, "Courts That Work Fast." If attorneys and others will faithfully cooperate together toward establishing an arbitration society for the settlement of the multitude by elucidating localities, legal complications, exorbitant fees and insure equally through a practical administration of justice without infringing upon the liberty of individuals in their social and business affairs, they may then inspire greater mental and moral progress confidence and a better citizenship.

ELOUISE WESKE.

FOR NORTHERN CALIFORNIA.

To the Editor of THE TRIBUNE:

I wish to express appreciation of the recent editorial printed in all of Northern California's leading papers. It is an initial step toward a new way of settling disputes, the end of the state which resources far in advance of the or end of our state we need but some of their splendid spirit of co-operation to place Upper California before the nation and the world as never before.

CONGRATULATIONS.

The Oakland TRIBUNE has announced that about the first of August it will begin the erection of a nineteen-story building as a home for the paper. The TRIBUNE is one of the oldest and best papers in the state and a very popular exchange in the office. We extend congratulations over the prospect of a new home and are glad to see the TRIBUNE going "up in the air" to that extent.

per cent a large number necessitated return calls. The four days' drive has advanced the annual income of the Chamber to approximately $90,000 and has added nearly 600 new names to the membership roll. This plan for the continuation will provide for the reorganization and rebuilding of the teams. It was pointed out by those in charge that the preparatory work will be, to quite a large extent, lost if the entire field is not covered and the "call backs" taken care of. OVERSUBSCRIPTION EXPECTED.

That the fund will be liberally over-subscribed when the final line is drawn is the belief of those in charge of the campaign. The luncheon crowd today, presided over by Joseph R. Knowland, one of the directors of the Chamber, was extremely optimistic and enthusiastic. The speakers, without exception, predicted a large over-subscription, and they are unanimous in the opinion that the work should not be dropped until the field has been covered.

David Oliphant Jr. at yesterday's luncheon, called upon the workers to harness the enthusiasm which has been generated by this campaign, and predicted that if Oakland could maintain the present pace, there is no goal to which it might not aspire. He spoke, in part, as follows: "Led by the press, northern California is going to capitalize the enthusiasm of its people. The city of Oakland which at the present time properly leads the state in the desire to do, certainly will not fail to turn the present enthusiasm into deeds of progress.

DEBT TO ENTHUSIASM. "In the life of the average city or the life of the average man enthusiasm follows a series of curves reaching occasional peaks of enthusiasm from which they sag to corresponding periods of depression. I cannot help but stop and think of the debt that we owe those who maintain a constant reservoir of enthusiasm and who are always pressing forward regardless of the spirit of the people at large. I believe we owe a very great debt to these men, among whom is Joseph H. King, president of the Chamber of Commerce. We saw him, prior to the war, as the enthusiastic president of the Chamber of Commerce. During the Liberty Loan drives he worked night and day, never tiring and never allowing his spirits to sag. Now again we see him heading the Chamber of Commerce and with other members of that organization

The camp will be conducted on strict military lines, the mornings given over to drill and military training, while the afternoons will be for recreation and the evenings for entertainments and good times.

ANGELS AND BEES TIED WITH OAKS FOR THIRD PLACE

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS IS ONLY TEAM MAKING THE RACE HOT FOR GIANTS IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

OAKS FAIL TO GET HIT OFF KUNZ AFTER THE SECOND INNING

Krause Weakens in Eighth; Oscar Stange Bounces Winning Hit Off Mariott's Shins.

SACRAMENTO, July 14.—Moreing day at the local ball park this afternoon promises to be a grand success, now that Charley Pick's Sacramento Senators have come out of their long slump. The locals were out for their third game of the series with Ivan Howard's Oaks yesterday afternoon and away they trotted to the showers with a victory to their credit, and again it was only by the narrow margin of one run. After the first inning Harry Krause of the Oaks and "Pincers" Kunz of the locals staged a pretty pitching duel, but Krause weakened in the eighth inning and the Senators broke a 2 to 2 deadlock by scoring a run which later proved to be the winning one. The Oaks were helpless before Kunz's shoots after the second inning, as they did not get anything that looked like a hit. The visitors got three hits in all, while the locals touched Krause and Jones for eleven.

Krause went along in fine style after the first inning, but the old veteran, Buddy Ryan, busted one for a double to open the eighth. McNeely was put in to run for Ryan and he was forced by Sheehan. Orr beat out a hit to second and then Jones went in to pitch. Pearce put the ball in play, but Schulte pegged Sheehan out at the plate. Orr taking third. Oscar Stange, whose hit won the game the day before, cracked a single off Mariott's shins and Orr scored the winning run.

Oaks as Usual Get

Jump on Senators.

Each team put over a pair of runs in the first inning, but Krause was pitched the harder of the two in that frame. To start for the Oaks Brown worked Kunz for a free trip to first. Schulte, filling in for Willie, who was under the weather, was an infield out and Cooper tripled to score Brown. LaFayette beat out a slow hit to second and Cooper scored. Mariott and Knight could not deliver.

Schulte was disposed of when Mariott singled and Schulte put him on third with a double. The runners held their bases as Krause tossed out Ryan, and next was Sheehan, who cracked out a single to put the two runners over. Orr also got a hit, but Pearce flew to Cooper.

Kunz pulled out of a nice jam in the third inning after walking Schulte and Cooper to start. Cooper took third on LaFayette's fly to Ryan, and Cooper stole second.

Kunz was game and pitched to Mariott, who popped to Pearce, Jack Knight fanned. After that inning the Oaks were almost helpless before Kunz's shoots.

Schulte Grabs Knight's Limer for Double Play.

Krause settled down after the first inning and the fourth he without a score off him, as Stange got a hit and Kunz got on base when he sacrificed and Cooper tripled to score. After that the runners advanced on Schulte's sacrifice and Mariott fled to Cooper to make a break for Krause, as Stange left third before the catch was made and called. The Oaks looked like they might tie the score in the ninth inning, as Mariott, the first batter up, reached second when McNeely dropped his fly. But Knight lined a hot one which Schulte gathered in and doubled Mariott off second. The score:

Leading Hitters in the Majors

Babe Ruth, Ken Williams and Tillie Walker may be great home-run hitters, but St. Louis baseball fans do not think they have anything on George Sisler and Roger Hornsby when it comes to making the pitchers moan and driving runners over the plate. On the left in this picture is GEORGE SISLER, of the St. Louis Browns, and the leading hitter of the American league, and the fellow next to him is ROGER HORNSBY of the St. Louis Cardinals, leading hitter of the National league. Ty Cobb is making Sisler worry about the hitting crown, but Hornsby is far ahead of his nearest rival.

S. L. Bees Break Even in Games With the Tigers

SALT LAKE CITY, July 14.—The Vernon Tigers won the first game of yesterday's double-header by a 7 to 6 score, and then the Bees came back in the second game and had a wonderful time, piling up 22 runs against the Tigers' 7. The first game went fourteen innings and was featured by the uphill fight of the Bees who tied the score twice by scoring four in the ninth and two in the tenth. "Ham" Hyatt, who was the heavy hitter in the games the day before, was again there yesterday and he hit a pair of homers and a single in the first game and another homer in the second.

Heine Sand did some heavy lifting for the locals, getting three hits in each game. Jake May, the little Vernon pitcher, got credit for winning the first game. Jolly started the second for the Tigers, but he was finished up by Elmer Reiser, who went the full route for the Bees. The scores:

WHO IS THE STRANGE WOMAN WHO STOPPED THE CAR?

Robert Savarin, with a quick movement, saved his car to one side just in time to escape grazing the woman seated in the middle of the road painting at an easel.

Two other cars coming from the opposite direction, and being compelled to stop at the obstacle, brought him to a stop also, and the woman at the easel looked up from under an immense sun hat. At sight of our car and its occupants, she sprang to her feet, almost upstopping her easel as she did so. With a deft and evidently born of long practice, she righted the easel with one hand as she passed it, came to the side of the car and jumped on the running board.

"Lillian Underwood, as I'm a housewife," she exclaimed. "Just drive to one side of the road, kind gentleman, so we can talk. Charlie!" She threw a command over her shoulder to a young man who had stood admiringly near her easel. "Get the things out of the road for me, won't you, there's a dear. Now Lill, introduce me to your friends, if they can stand the gaff, and tell me where you've kept yourself all the time. And where is Harry, or aren't we supposed to ask questions about him any more? You know I've been at the far end of the continent for ages, and only came back this morning to find the wildest rumors flying around about your whereabouts."

She stopped to take breath, and I decided that I disliked her intensely upon first sight. In her youth she must have been a striking figure. Now, in her late forties, she was scrawny and sallow where her make-up did not reach. Her hair, which no doubt had been a raven's wing, still held the hue of that famous bird, but it was a color which patently came out of a bottle. And her dress—excessively short, short-sleeved, with rolled-down stockings and flamboyant sport shoes of large figured chintz—made her a bizarre figure even in that artistic colony, where the rule of costume and behavior forms a fantastic edging for the beautiful sturdy wool of which the colony life is composed.

That she was malicious, though, I learned from her apparent behavior. She was sure from a queer furtive little expression in her eyes as she looked at Lillian. All Lillian's world knew of Harry Underwood's curial treatment of her, and the way she had had a good deal of fire upon his head by saving him out of the country, getting him out of the country, and giving him a chance to redeem himself by foreign service in the war for his share in the plot against his country conceived in the fertile brain of Grace Draper. If Lillian had made any inquiries at all concerning Lillian, she must have known this story. Harry Underwood, and his question concerning him, must have been born solely of a desire to wound.

"TOO GOOD LUCK"

That Lillian knew Underwood stood all the time was sure from the infection of her voice as she sidestepped the sudden onslaught of this unexpected question. It was an infection which only her closest friends knew, and that was Robert Savarin's eyes. When he looked at the woman who had caused that hurt, cold cadence to creep into his beloved's voice.

"Eleanor Rundle!" she said, making the name an exclamation and a question in one. "So you have come back! We must have been neighbors all summer without knowing it!"

"Yes, isn't it touching?" the woman retorted, and then she fixed that brilliant black eyes, solo remnant of the beauty that was once hers, upon Robert Savarin.

"You never used to be a stingy 'fraid cat, Lill," she said with the laughing, sneering insolence which her type consists of. "Of course, I'd admit he's terribly handsome."

Robert Savarin's face did not flush, but his eyes showed his anger and embarrassment at this outrageous little speech.

Lillian, however, was as cool as though the woman had uttered the most banal platitude.

"I always have handsome and a question," she said evenly, "and I am glad to exhibit them and have them find favor in the eyes of a connoisseur like yourself. Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Rundle and Mr. Savarin."

Mrs. Rundle gave me the most perfunctory of nods—she is the type of femininity who wastes no seconds upon other women—and clasped her hands theatrically as she heard the artist's name.

"Not the Robert Savarin?" she exclaimed. "Lill, don't tell me that unless it's true! It would be too good luck today."

I caught a glimpse of something sincere behind her theatricalism, and I felt something that spoke of a real need. And a flash of the desperation that need brings had shadowed her brilliant eyes for a second. Lillian saw it, also. I know from the promptness with which she opened the tonneau door.

"Get in, Eleanor," she said brusquely, "and tell me what's the matter."

My horror, the woman, after obeying turned her head against the back of the seat and broke into a perfect storm of tears and sobs.

(Copyright, 1922.)

From what I have seen, most 6-year-old youngsters are quite capable, thinking humans and have good reasoning powers. That is, if they have not been brought up like savages. Every child will fight, get bad-tempered and into mischief at intervals, but they should be reprimanded when they make themselves objectionable or when they will raise a new generation of 'young savages.' Had that youngster belonged to me, I would have told him that nice boys, like he, don't use bad words or get mad when their children tease, and left it at that.

I am an English woman, over forty years of age, have never in my life worn corsets, high heels or hair pads, thick collars and tight waistbands, etc. (though I admit that such things did exist in the time of which you speak, in your letter to 'Nobody's Daddy,' there were a whole lot of women like myself who had no use for them. In a girls' public day school, and never did we hear of such a thing as corporal punishment, it simply didn't exist, and there was a splendid discipline throughout the whole school, number about 400. The principal was an old maiden lady. She retired on account of old age (about a year after I finished school) at the age of about 75. I have much to say about her. I was loved by everyone who knew her. We need teachers who have common sense, brains, good health, a kindly disposition and who love and, above all, understand children. I don't think that such a woman can be found both in married and unmarried women, both in young and in old.

"Yours, with the best of intentions,"

Did I seem 'snippy and not at all sympathetic?' I'm sorry, Friend, I didn't mean to—for I, too, liked that "Plain Mother's" letter. On re-reading my answer, I do seem to have been a trifle snippy and good. My wrath was really against the school teacher who made such a mountain of a mole-hill. I don't object to the soap-and-water discipline—when it's really needed. But I don't think it necessary to make it necessary. Of course, if this wasn't the first naughty word, I stand corrected.

I've had a good deal to do with small boys, E. P. B., and I'm somewhat of the opinion that they actually NEED to be "little savages" sometimes. And I'm afraid I would hardly know how to deal with the little boy who wouldn't "get mad" when other children teased. Moreover, if he were my small boy, he would be allowed to do quite a bit of husky scrapping without reprimand. And if he didn't know how—well, I rather think I'd SHOW HIM! Does this horrify you? I hope not, for I truly am as sincere in my well-wishing for children as you are. I, too, want to see them grow to strong, well-balanced maturity. And for that very reason I don't believe in meddling in their childish quarrels or struggles. The "nice little boy" and "nice little girl" code too much at the tender age of six. By all means let them wash their faces and keep their mouths closed when they're on exhibition—but between whiles, me for mud pies. And if they shove their mud pies down each other's throats—well, the leading lights of history have swallowed mud pies in their time.

But at any rate, I like your letter, and you, immensely—and hope you're going to be one of the steady circle. Will you?

Tribune Clarice Patterns

(No. 1423-9545)

The combination of corset cover and drawers shown above can be made in an afternoon at a cost of about $1 figuring 30c a yard for cambric and 10c a yard for edging. Of course it could be made also with muslin, but we think cambric a better material for these particular styles.

The corset cover is one that really fits and so, in addition to making a slenderizing undergarment for the full-figured or stout woman, it makes a comfortable undergarment. The drawers illustrated are the standard type and may be worn open or closed.

The corset cover pattern No. 1423 cuts in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 1/2 yard of 36-inch material with 2 1/4 yards of edging. The drawers pattern No. 9545 cuts in sizes 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34 and 36 inches waist measure. Size 26 requires 1 1/2 yards of 36-inch material with 2 yards of edging. The corset cover and drawers patterns are separate. You can order both for 30c or each for 15c, stamps or coin.

CHAPTER 29

The "Torch" Yegg Gangs

WHEN a torch gang for the first time in the history of yeggdom burned out a manganese cannibal safe in a Los Altos bank in 1921, the superiority of the burners over all other types of yeggs was firmly established.

Prior to this the cannibal had been considered invulnerable. Nitroglycerin would not touch the sphere with its hard steel walls six inches thick. Electric drill men could not penetrate it. And here I might say that electric drilling of safes has never assumed any importance because the boring out of locks takes too long. And even the oxyacetylene burners failed because the tremendous heat generated by burning through six inches of steel always consumed the paper money inside.

Then one of the torch men conceived the idea of flooding the cannibal with water. This was done, the hole was burned without destroying the currency and the bankers association heralded to the world the fact that the manganese cannibal had at last succumbed.

It must not be supposed that the rating of the torch men depends upon this one spectacular achievement. Since 1919 they have been demonstrating the effectiveness of a flame of 3000 degrees centigrade intensity, a tiny point of fire that ate through the hardest and thickest metal. And they were not pickers like the old time crooks. Riding the rods and living in the jungles was not for them. Rather they owned splendid motor cars (or stole them) and lived in fine homes where they indulged in liquor and drug orgies between jobs. They dressed like gentlemen, frequently established accounts at banks where they intended to rob and concealed their real characters under a mask of respectability in cities where police protection was easy to obtain.

A very interesting point to remember in this connection is that no big torch men have yet been convicted. The cannibal safe was spared, bankers believe, because the torch yeggs found the safety deposit vaults of the great banks to be such easy "pickings." It was very easy for the yeggs with their tanks, rubber hose and burner, to drive up to the bank at midnight in a big car, break in through a rear door and burn out the combination of a vault. The vault, because of its comparatively thin door, is "easy meat" for the oxyacetylene torch. After that it was equally easy for them to burn open the inner door which admitted them to the safety deposit boxes. The deposit boxes were opened either by burning or by knocking them open with a sledge and punch. In one such bank the outlaws secured $30,000 worth of loot.

Because of the big hauls made these high-class yeggs always take their time about pulling off a job, leaving nothing to chance. They have always picked a bank which they could isolate by cutting all wires and which is unguarded at night. Some member of the gang makes a deposit in the bank and rents a safety deposit box to learn the ropes. Perhaps he may not go with the other torch men when the actual robbery is perpetrated. If he were recognized his usefulness would be destroyed. After the safe is opened up a professional efficient crook sails down on it preferably on a stormy night when everyone is inside, and rob the place quickly and thoroughly.

The first attempt to burn a manganese cannibal did result in the destruction of the money. This was not because the robbers had failed to flood the safe with water but rather for the reason that they happened to burn through at the exact spot where the currency was stored. In the second attempt they made the hole higher up and thus avoided destroying the valuable paper.

Their method was simple. First they burned out a very small hole in the top of the safe. Through this hole they funneled the water into the safe. Then they burned out a larger hole, allowing the red hot piece of metal to drop through into the water. When the safe had cooled off, they drained out the water and by thrusting their arms through the hole they could pick up everything the safe contained.

Tomorrow, "Burglars."

Hercules Gets the Golden Apples

CHAPTER 99

TALES of heroic men who were almost gods played a big part in Greek mythology. Most noted of these was Hercules. He was at one time sent in quest of some golden apples. When Hercules came to Nereus, says the Greek tale, the ruler of the Aegean sea, the god was asleep. Hercules seized him and held him until he gave directions toward the garden where the golden apples grew.

Proceeding on his way the hero met a giant named Antaeus, who was a famous wrestler. This giant said to Hercules: "I am the world's greatest wrestler. You must wrestle with me before you pass."

Hercules grappled with Antaeus who was a son of the goddess Earth. It was a fierce battle. Hercules put forth all his strength, but could not down his opponent. By and by he noticed that every time the giant's feet touched the earth, new power shot through his muscles.

"I'll hold him in the air," said Hercules to himself. "Maybe his strength will then be lost."

It was so. Hercules cast the limp body aside and continued on his way. Finally he reached Mount Atlas, where the giant Atlas was holding the sky on his shoulder. You remember he was given that job because he fought in the war against Zeus. Atlas was supposed to stand in northern Africa, just across from Spain.

"Where can I find the golden apples?" asked Hercules. "I shall not tell you that," replied Atlas, "but if you will hold the sky to face and Betsy never faces it— if she can help it.

Katherine—she's Mother's daughter, too, and is she like Mother, like Betsy in any single way? She is not.

Katherine is artistic. Anything out of order hurts her terribly. Oh, no, she doesn't care whether it's dusty or not, or whether it's things—but it must hang just so, and get exactly such a light, or she can't bear to look at it. Katherine can't live without music. She plays and droops unless she has just so much harmony in her life.

Mother is an excellent cook. Betsy says she'd starve before she'd go into a kitchen.

You ought to see her mother's face. Katherine—she's like Mother, like Betsy in any single way? She is not.

Mother married Father because he was a good, sensible man and she knew he could take good care of her. Oh, yes, she liked him, she knew he was honest and all right.

But Betty won't marry anyone unless he's a millionaire or a duke or something.

Oh, Katherine will step out some evening and marry a dark-eyed stranger without a cent to his name and not the least idea of ever getting one—and she'll spend the rest of her life trying to pretend she's perfectly happy!

The Man Who Understands Women would probably say that Mother is a cold-hearted, mercenary fiend.

Betsy, under his microscope, would turn into a weird freak who ought to be in the observation ward at the county hospital.

WHAT A POSE!

Katherine? Oh, Katherine would be meat and drink to the Man Who Understands Women. Whenever Katherine had a comfortable little cry because somebody said something that hurt her feelings, the Man Who Understands Women would make her out a vampire, mourning because there was no one to vamp.

What a pose it all is, after all, this "understanding women," and how tired we do get of it! It takes more than a casual acquaintance with two or three easy-going ladies to get at the heart of the plain, everyday, wholesome, honest, real woman—let me tell you that you who are so clever at "understanding."

by Sam Loyd

6 Minutes to Answer This.

Here is a puzzle to work out with pins or matchsticks. The diagram contains sixteen little squares, and these squares form larger squares, there being 30 different squares of various sizes. The puzzle consists in discovering how few pins or sticks it is necessary to remove in order that no perfect square shall be found in the arrangement.

UNDER HIS MICROSCOPE.

Mother's daughter, Betsy, is so much under the glass—and Betsy doesn't mind stretching the truth just a tiny bit if it happens to be convenient. She wouldn't tell a malicious fib for the world, but the truth is something a little hard malicious! And I wanted a girl this time!

Nurse—Do not despair, O king; there will be three more along in a minute.

"What a strange expression that movie actor has!"

"Nothing strange about it. He is the man who always gets it in the eye with an egg."

NEW INDUSTRIAL
SURVEY OF CITY
WILL BEGIN SOONThis Step, Is It Claimed, Will Remove Stumbling Block to Development.

Plans for the first industrial survey of Oakland in the past ten years, with a view toward definitely determining which districts shall be reserved intact for residential purposes and which shall be open for factories and other industries, will be begun by the City Planning Commission at its regular weekly meeting next Friday.

Commissioner Albert E. Carter, ex-officio member of the commission, said today.

This step, it is asserted by its proponents, will remove one of the greatest stumbling-blocks in the way of the maximum industrial development of Oakland.

WILL HOLD MEETINGS.

Before final plans for the proposed industrial districts of the city are decided upon and incorporated in a new city zoning ordinance, a series of open meetings will be called by the City Planning Commission, which will be attended by representatives of business and industrial interests and also representatives of the various residence districts throughout the city. All of these will be given a voice in the determination of where the lines shall run that will heretofore rigorously set off the industrial from the residence sections of Oakland.

The proposed action of the City Planning Commission comes as the result of a resolution submitted to the City Council yesterday by the Merchants' Exchange in which a request was made for the Council

Crime Statistics Planned
As Curb on Probation

The work of compiling statistics that will show the past records, the offenses charged, and the final disposition of every man accused of a felony in Alameda county during the past year was started today by District Attorney Ezra Decoto and Sheriff Frank Barnett. It is the second move in the preliminary investigation of the adult probation system, started yesterday by Walter Woolsey, Berkeley capitalist and foreman of the Alameda County Grand Jury.

Woolsey declares there have been many complaints relative to the granting of probation. The complaints are not directed against any particular official, but hit at the probation system in its entirety rather than at any specific case. The probation system in the county operates through two offices, that of Leonard Compton, adult probation officer, and of Ollie Snedger, juvenile probation officer.

SLAYING CASES PROBE.

The slaying of William Reinking on July 5 by alleged East Oakland gangster is believed to have caused only to have to abandon its investment when the Council revoked its permit upon the complaint of neighboring property-owners that the district was not included in the industrial zone. Walker said.

"What the Merchants' Exchange is seeking is to have an up-to-date, definite zoning law adopted, and then rigidly adhered to."

REZONING NECESSARY.

The rezoning of the city is made necessary by the fact that the character of many sections of Oakland have completely changed since the last survey for zoning purposes was made ten years ago. Because these changed conditions have not been definitely recognized by city ordinance, it is claimed, confusion has resulted, which, in many cases, has driven manufacturers away from Oakland. Permits, it is declared, have been granted later by the City Council upon the showing of property-owners that the district in which the factory was located was still nominally residential.

WEST OAKLAND AFFECTED.

According to Wilbur Walker, assistant to the president of the Merchants' Exchange, and others who favor the plan, many districts have been completely outlived in usefulness as residence sections. It is asserted, and although nominally included in the residence zones, are actually best suited to industrial purposes.

Because these changed conditions have not been definitely recognized by city ordinance, it is claimed, confusion has resulted, which, in many cases, has driven manufacturers away from Oakland. Permits, it is declared, have been granted later by the City Council upon the showing of property-owners that the district in which the factory was located was still nominally residential.

Banquet Closing Features of Convention.

SAN LEANDRO, July 14.—With the closing of the twenty-second annual convention of the S. P. R. S. I., visiting officers and delegates departed to their homes today. Committees were appointed to escort them to the trains and bid them farewell.

A parting banquet was tendered the S. P. R. S. I. members at the Escondido House last night. The banquet was preceded by a band concert on the city plaza, under the direction of Prof. Mario B. da Camara of San Leandro.

Approximately 200 persons attended the banquet. The hall was decorated with flowers, flags and banners. Miss Marie Chrysostomo was chairman and Miss Leopoldina Rodriguez, newly elected supreme president, made the opening address, followed by Mrs. Senhorma C. Simas, past supreme president. Mayor Allen E. Pelton of San Leandro and Judge Frank Mitchell, Hayward, were the principal speakers. Short addresses were also heard from Judge W. J. Gannon, San Leandro; Mrs. A. V. Pochay, Oakland; Miss Maria A. Medeiros, Petaluma; and Manuel Soares, grand president of the U. P. E. C. of Oakland. New and past officers spoke.

The selection of a location for the 1923 convention, following a spirited debate, was left to the board of directors, which will meet at Oakland early in August. The choice will rest between Sacramento and San Jose.

Speed Cop Leaps
On Cyclist's Back
To Conclude Chase

Policeman W. H. Garrett is in again, this time as an acrobat. Some time ago Garrett took his life in his hands and arrested his wife for violating the traffic ordinance.

Later he indulged in a spectacular pursuit of a fleeing motorcyclist and stopped him with a bullet.

Now another motorcyclist passed through Garrett's traffic corner was chased by the policeman in a commandeered machine and was captured when Garrett did a flying leap from the running board of the auto to the back of the motorcyclist, Stanley Thompson.

Both pursued and pursuer tumbled in a heap after Garrett did his acrobatic feat but neither was injured. Thompson is under arrest for violating the traffic ordinance.
